THE JURY STILL OUT

No Verdict In the Luetger Murder Case Is Yet In Sight.

ARE MUCH DIVIDED

The Jurors Are Evidently Far Apart --- They Received Further Instructions.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Refreshing slumber put the jurors in the famous Luetger case in better spirits and good humor, and this morning the majority of them were more active than on yesterday. A corp of scrub women and janitors took possession of Judge Tutthill's court early, and by hard work had transformed it from a sleeping room to the dignity of its proper sphere by 9 o'clock. The jurors retreated to their room to perform their morning toilet, when the cleaners appeared, and in a few minutes the cot was folded up and carried out, the room aired, the benches and chairs put in place and the court room in which for nearly nine weeks has been enacted the mystery of the vat had assumed its natural appearance. Most of the jurors slept twelve hours. The lost no time in seeking the cot that had been provided for them after the crowd was sent out of the building at 6 o'clock last evening, and by 8 o'clock the quiet of the court room was disturbed only by the snoring of the weary jurors.

The breakfast served this morning was received with less complaint than was heard yesterday morning. But after it had been disposed of there did not seem to be any desire on the part of the jurors to resume the struggle with the problem of life or death for Adolph Luetger.

They stand just as they did all day yesterday," said Bailiff Walcott this morning. "There are no prospects of an agreement at this hour, and I do not believe the jurors will ever agree. They stand eager for conviction and four for acquittal. They have been forty hours the twelve men stood thus. For conviction and the death penalty: Boyd, Heckhous, Harkness, Mahoney, Hosmer, Shaw, Franzen and Fowler. For acquittal: Harber, Holabird, Harlev and Behmler.

There was a report current during the morning that Juror Barber was wavering and that he would soon join the majority for Luetger's conviction and the death penalty. The minority have argued here for the first time that there is an element of doubt in the case. The corpus delicti was not established with sufficient directness to convince them that Mrs. Luetger is dead. Therefore they contend that if they possess a doubt they are in duty bound under the instructions of the court to give Luetger the benefit of it. For that reason alone it is said these jurors have cast their votes for an acquittal. Juror Harlev is a German and the claim is made that he is sympathetic with Luetger on the score of nationality. Harlev was once indicted in the criminal court in connection with the county commissioners' hoodie scandal of ten years ago. He was never tried, the case being dismissed by Judge Longnecker, who was then state's attorney.

State's Attorney Deneen is free to confess that had he known Harlev's record with reference to the hoodie scandal of the county board, Harlev would never have been permitted to serve on the jury. Juror Behmler is a butcher by occupation and keeps a meat market at Desplaines, a suburban town. At one time he was a customer of Luetger and purchased sausages from him. This fact was known, but because the business relations he had had with the prisoner would in no way affect his judgment in the trial of the case.

The prosecution is now convinced that the matter of securing a jury to try this case was pushed along too vigorously. Only one week was required. At the time the jury was drawn it was thought the trial would be over in three weeks. The importance of the great case was not then fully realized.

court room was sought by the members of the jury. State's Attorney Deneen said: "I had barely reached my office this morning when I was informed that my presence was desired in the court room and that the Luetger jury had a report or something of that nature to make to the judge. Judge Tutthill, Judge Vincent and Attorney Phalen and that were in the court room when I reached it.

"Luetger was sent for and came into court cool and smiling. Then the jury was brought in. It was apparent at once who had been holding the jury." The state's attorney continued: "Judge Tutthill inquired if the jury had any communication to make. Juror Harlev was on his feet in a hurry and began asking questions. He desired instructions on questions of fact. Harlev wanted to know if it was possible to leave out certain evidence altogether—exclude it entirely and then consider the other evidence and make up a verdict from it. This query excited the laughter of those who were opposed to Harlev, and it was noticeable that nine of the jurors laughed. Judge Tutthill said that the question was an improper one for him to answer.

"You have your instructions," said his honor, "note the reading of them. You will find that nearly all of them contain the language, 'and if after consideration of ALL the evidence, you find beyond a reasonable doubt,' etc. That should be sufficient. The court cannot now instruct you upon a question of fact. You will retire to your jury room and resume further consideration of the case. That was all that occurred. Several of the jurors wanted to know how much longer they were going to be kept in the jury room.

"Judge Tutthill paid no attention to their inquiry. George Harlev is the man who is holding the jury. He now has two adherents. They are Holabird and Behmler, but both of them, I believe, are wavering. It looks to me now as if there would be a disagreement. I believe that before night the jury will stand 11 to 6 in favor of the only man who will bring about the disagreement will be Harlev. Judge Tutthill has determined the jury shall have ample time to consider all the evidence in the case, and he will not discharge the jury before tonight or tomorrow. The same arrangements that were made yesterday with regard to the reception of a possible verdict prevailed today. Judge Tutthill left the criminal court at 12 o'clock, and the building before him. He went to his home on Jackson boulevard and it was agreed that he would be notified on once in case the jury signified that a verdict had been reached. Ex-Judge Vincent and Attorney Phalen went to their offices down town and kept in touch with telephone communication all day.

Before he left the building Judge Tutthill intimated that he might return late in the afternoon or evening and call the jury before him. He has been given no indication or possibility of a verdict being reached. Judge Tutthill has hinted that the jury indicated even vaguely that there was the slightest chance for a verdict, back the jury would go and remain the balance of the week unless a verdict was handed into court in the meantime.

State's Attorney Deneen today, referring in conversation to Juror Harlev, said: "We did not have time to look up his record as we had done in the cases of each of the other eleven jurors. He answered all questions fairly enough and his appearance was good. That is why he was accepted."

During all the long trial State's Attorney Deneen did not once speak to Luetger. In fact never until today did Mr. Deneen come in contact with the prisoner. Assistant State's Attorney McEwen had handled all the preliminary proceedings in the case. When Luetger walked into Judge Tutthill's court room this morning he believed a verdict had been reached. He also believed that he had been acquitted.

With a smile on his face he walked up to ex-Judge Vincent and Attorney Phalen and warmly shook each of them by the hand. Then turning to State's Attorney Deneen, he grasped the small hand of the state's attorney in his monster palm and exclaimed: "Well, Mr. Deneen, I am glad it is all over. You gave me a terrible tongue lashing the last day, but you were fair. You did not go outside the evidence. State's Attorney Deneen shook the hand of the giant German, smiled and bowed, but said nothing.

At 12:30 Judge Tutthill's court was converted into a dining room. Several tables were set during the trial, and been piled high with books, papers and papers were covered by snow linen and the hall filled with the sound of "setting the table." Huge baskets of food and cans of coffee were hoisted up in a freight elevator and brought into the room. Dinner was called a few minutes before 1 o'clock, and the jury escorted by the two bailiffs entered and took their seats. They evidently enjoyed the meal and did not go outside the room. It was sometime later before they retired and were once more locked up in the court room. The door was kept tightly closed until Judge Tutthill returns to hear a verdict. The representation of the press and all interested in the trial excepting the counsel will be excluded from the court. Evidently the two men are long way from arriving at a decision as the court attaches fixed themselves for an afternoon of complete repose.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

A Blue Earth County Farmer Killed His Entire Family and Himself.

Minneapolis, Oct. 20.—(Special to The Herald).—A Blue Earth City, Minn., special to the Journal says: At about 7 o'clock this morning George Young, a farmer residing two miles south of this city, shot and killed his wife, his two boys, aged 2 and 1, and himself. All died instantly and were found waiting in blood when the hired man, the only other person on the place, came in. Business and domestic troubles form the only explanation for the deed.

GOOD CHESS PLAYER DEAD. Vienna, Oct. 20.—Berthold Englisch, the well known chess player, is dead. The cause of death was brain affection. Englisch withdrew from the recent tournament at Berlin, declaring that his head was not clear. Rumor accused him of accepting a bribe from a weak opponent to withdraw, but his death disproves that report.

McCLERNAND IS SICK. Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20.—Gen. John McClernand is quite sick at his home here with a malady that physicians find difficulty in diagnosing. His friends are apprehensive on account of his advanced age and physical frailty.

Officers of Penna Mutual Company Pleased With Duluth.

H. F. West, president of the Penna Mutual Life Insurance company, of Philadelphia, Q. W. Hamer, general manager of the loan and investment department, and Aaron Fries and James Butterworth, directors of the company, who were here yesterday afternoon for the purpose of looking over the investment of the company here, and before leaving expressed themselves as being well satisfied with the business outlook. The Penna Mutual has about $1,000,000 invested in Duluth real estate securities, and the officers while here thought so well of the city that they notified their local representatives that they would make additional loans on desirable property. They have unbounded faith in the future of Duluth, and that its development from this time forward will be rapid and substantial.

THE GAMBLING CASE.
Trial of It Is Occupying Municipal Court's Attention.

The case of Drew vs. Wheelahan, in which the contention is over the legality of a check given for a gambling debt, and which was continued by stipulation from last term of the municipal court, came on again yesterday afternoon. It was a go this time, the trial proceeding. The evidence consisted mainly of the testimony of the defense, and the witness told the story in the main as given in the defendant's answer, which was outlined in The Herald when the case first came on for trial. It was stated that the check was given to Wheelahan in a "little game" in the Zenith saloon last July. Payment was subsequently stopped at the bank, and the plaintiff, into whose hands the check passed, sought to recover as an innocent purchaser. An interesting contribution to science was made by Clerk Ward of the spalling, who said he was a good judge of the symptoms of drunkenness and vomited in the knowledge of its cause and cure. He stated it as his opinion that a man could get a fair jag in twenty minutes if he started out with

THE BOARD OBJECTS

Fire Commissioners Will Not Have Council Interfering In Department Affairs.

The fire commissioners do not concede the authority of the council fire department committee to investigate Chief Black and if that committee attempts to carry out its instructions to look into matters connected with the recent discharge of men from the department, the fur will fly. The commissioners hold a special meeting yesterday afternoon to talk over the proposed investigation directed by the council. It was the sense of the fire department committee that if Chief Black is to be investigated, they are the ones to do it. The commissioners will serve notice on the fire department committee that it must deal with them in the matter and not go moseying around on its own hook.

ARE GOING TO FIGHT

Result of Mayor Truelsen's Interview With Bondholders' Representatives.

COULD NOT AGREE

Will Fight to a Finish If the Plant Is Not Bought.

The conference between Mayor Truelsen and the representatives of the English holders of Duluth Gas and Water company bonds relative to the purchase of the plants, which was held in Chicago on Sunday and Monday were without result so far as an immediate settlement of the question is concerned. There was an intimation from Mr. Fleming, the English representative, that the bondholders might possibly shade the price named by Mr. Gay, which was $1,400,000. He stoutly maintained, however, that the interests represented by him would never reduce the price to the top notch to which the mayor would go, $1,200,000, secured by 4 per cent bonds. The bondholders will fight rather than get down to that figure, Mr. Fleming asserted.

The mayor told Mr. Fleming, in reply, that if they wanted to fight they would be accommodated. And thus the matter stands at present. The mayor and Chief Hansen, who accompanied him, returned this morning. The mayor is in good spirits over the conference. He says he carried away with him the impression that the city will receive the benefit of the future, Chief Hansen, who was present at the conference, shares this view.

The first conference was held Sunday morning at the Auditorium annex. There were present Mr. Fleming, Mr. Untermyer, the American counsel for the bondholders; J. L. Washburn, of this city also acting for the bondholders' interests, and Chief Hansen. The mayor told the bondholders' representative that the city of Duluth are determined to have pure water at an early date, and that unless an agreement for the purchase of the plant could be reached quickly, the city would go ahead and parallel the plant. The matter of connecting the supplementary system with the company's mains, as a temporary arrangement at least, was talked over. Mr. Fleming suggested perhaps it could be arranged to lease the system for the interest on the bonds. To this the mayor replied that the people wanted to own the plant and that the plant might as well be purchased for the bonded debt as to lease it as proposed.

The mayor then informed the bondholders' representative that while he had originally been in favor of going no higher than $1,140,000, he would use his efforts in favor of a proposition at $1,200,000, payment to be made in 4 per cent bonds. As a condition, however, he stated that offer should be made at once. This proposition, the bondholders' representative, claiming that it would only pay them 46 cents on the dollar.

The offer made by Mr. Gay to sell at $1,400,000 was discussed. Mr. Fleming said that the English bondholders had not authorized Mr. Gay to make such an offer. The mayor informed Mr. Fleming that even if that figure were submitted it could not possibly carry. On Monday Mr. Fleming reverted to the Gay offer again. He repeated that it was unauthorized, but said that his people might be willing to shade that price a little. The mayor replied that it would have to be shaded a good deal.

To this Mr. Fleming replied that his people would fight rather than accept $1,200,000. He intimated that they had money and remarked that Englishmen can fight.

The mayor replied that Americans could fight also. To this, Mr. Fleming replied that his people had found that out to their cost.

The interview Monday was held between the mayor and Mr. Fleming on the latter's invitation. There was the best of feeling on both sides. Both Mr. Fleming and Mr. Untermyer are pleasant, broad-gauged gentlemen, the mayor said.

VALUATIONS NEARLY ENTERED.

Progress of Work on the County Tax Books.

The force in the county auditor's office has nearly completed the task of putting in the assessment books the valuations of real and personal property as fixed by the state board of equalization. After the rates are fixed the taxes will be spread on the records.

There is one odd case in connection with this year's taxes, and that is in Floodwood. There is some good farming land there, and quite a settlement of farmers. The valuation of the property of the district is low, only $4285. The school authorities there hired a teacher and paid her party in orders, which she holds to the amount of $150. The district also built a school house, for which purpose it issued bonds, $150. Judgment on the bonds has been secured by a local attorney, and he has requested the county auditor to extend sufficient taxes on the district to pay it. Under the law this must be done, and with the levy made by the district this will make a tax of about 100 mills, or 10 per cent.

If the valuations were not low in the district this would amount practically to a confiscation, as a man owning property worth $1000 would have to pay $100 taxes. There is another factor in the situation. There is a good deal of railroad land in the district which, under the Anderson amendment to the constitution, is to be taxed. But there is a question whether that law is valid, enough at least to bring the matter before the courts, so the rate will have to be made up without reference to the railroad lands. If the test suits now pending are decided in favor of the railroads owning the land in this district will have to pay their little 10 per cent, or about $1000. This will make a large surplus in the treasury of school district No. 23.

WYLER REFUSES

Will Not Turn Over the Captain Generalship of Cuba to Castellanos.

AFFAIRS CRITICAL

Weyler Will Not Vacate Even Under Pressure of a Peremptory Order.

New York, Oct. 21.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says: Despite all his protests to the contrary, Gen. Weyler, when it comes to the actual test of resigning his command, exhibits decided reluctance. He has refused to give over his authority as captain general to his duly appointed successor, Jimenez Castellanos, although peremptorily ordered to do so by Spain's minister of war.

The situation is critical. Senor Sagasta cannot, it is believed, permit his duty to be openly defied by Gen. Weyler, and yet he may have to resort to extreme measures to remove the captain general. Over and over again Gen. Weyler has affirmed he will do nothing to embarrass his country, but his actions speak louder than words. Castellanos arrived in Havana last night. He had been appointed by Spain's minister of war to replace Gen. Weyler, and he was in the field when the appointment came, but he at once started for the palace. In some unaccountable manner a man-of-war sent to fetch him was retarded.

Castellanos proceeded to the palace on Tuesday morning, expecting to be sworn in as captain general. But it was very soon apparent that Gen. Weyler did not intend that anything of the sort should happen. He made excuses and hesitated until Castellanos was provoked to cable the situation to Madrid. A reply came quickly. It was a peremptory order that he should vacate at once, but that he should remain in command until he had been replaced. Gen. Weyler did not intend to obey the order, but he at once started for the palace. In some unaccountable manner a man-of-war sent to fetch him was retarded.

The date of his departure is now fixed while before he was only a little while from being fixed for Gen. Weyler to leave. He is now in the city of Havana, and he is now in the city of Havana, and he is now in the city of Havana.

UNDER MILITARY RULE

McKinley Will So Place a Portion of Alaska.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—A special from Washington says: President McKinley will issue an order placing a large district in Alaska, of the county of St. Louis, will be the center, under the control of the military arm of the government. The order will be issued at once, and it will be the center, under the control of the military arm of the government. The order will be issued at once, and it will be the center, under the control of the military arm of the government.

The determination to issue the order was made at a cabinet meeting. While no official report has been made, it is believed that the order will be issued at once, and it will be the center, under the control of the military arm of the government. The order will be issued at once, and it will be the center, under the control of the military arm of the government.

The secretary will today issue an order creating a military reservation in that part of Alaska lying within a radius of fifty miles of the town of Fairbanks. The purpose is to enter upon the necessary legal proceedings to reserve the land for the use of the military arm of the government. The order will be issued at once, and it will be the center, under the control of the military arm of the government.

United States Furnishes the United Kingdom With All Its Typewriters.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Consul Barker at Birmingham, Eng., in his annual report to the state department says: A marked development in this district during the year has been the bicycle trade. It has been so great that it has been a great overproduction. The trade with the United States has not been greatly affected, because no complete bicycles have been sent to the United States since 1934. The British bicycle trade in bicycles amounted to in 1935 $7,470,000, in 1936, to $9,000,000, and in 1937, to $10,000,000.

So many men have been drawn into bicycle making that other branches of business have been injured. An increase of 10 per cent in the wages of skilled labor resulted, but a decline in the introduction of new machinery. In the past two years the export from the United States to the United Kingdom of cycles and parts of cycles was as follows: For 1936, $2,325,000; for 1937, $2,375,000.

Speaking of the general trade, the consul says that exports of other manufactures which have been sent to the United Kingdom are not classified by countries of destination, are brass rods, clocks and watches, glass, steel rails, tin and steel plates and sheets, wire, printing presses, typewriters, nickel, lead and made wire in charge of the British colonies, especially in Canada and Australasia.

In addition, United States manufacturers are extending their trade in cotton goods, leather and furniture to the United Kingdom. He says that in the matter of typewriters the United States is a monopoly. The British colonies, especially in Canada and Australasia.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Consul Barker at Birmingham, Eng., in his annual report to the state department says: A marked development in this district during the year has been the bicycle trade. It has been so great that it has been a great overproduction. The trade with the United States has not been greatly affected, because no complete bicycles have been sent to the United States since 1934. The British bicycle trade in bicycles amounted to in 1935 $7,470,000, in 1936, to $9,000,000, and in 1937, to $10,000,000.

So many men have been drawn into bicycle making that other branches of business have been injured. An increase of 10 per cent in the wages of skilled labor resulted, but a decline in the introduction of new machinery. In the past two years the export from the United States to the United Kingdom of cycles and parts of cycles was as follows: For 1936, $2,325,000; for 1937, $2,375,000.

Speaking of the general trade, the consul says that exports of other manufactures which have been sent to the United Kingdom are not classified by countries of destination, are brass rods, clocks and watches, glass, steel rails, tin and steel plates and sheets, wire, printing presses, typewriters, nickel, lead and made wire in charge of the British colonies, especially in Canada and Australasia.

In addition, United States manufacturers are extending their trade in cotton goods, leather and furniture to the United Kingdom. He says that in the matter of typewriters the United States is a monopoly. The British colonies, especially in Canada and Australasia.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

A St. Paul dispatch to The Herald
yesterday announced the handing down
of an important decision by the state supreme court. By this decree, a new trial is ordered in the famous Steensongrain rate case, which has been in the courts for about four years. The decision of the supreme court is against the Great Northern Railroad company, and, by holding that the establishment and regulation of rates by the railroad and warehouse commission, under the railroad laws of this state, is an executive and not a judicial function, the court has thrown the right of the commission to fix rates and regulate charges on the lines within the state. For the rest, the decision is reached by whether or not the rates established by the commission were excessive and not confessatory, and into this question the court goes at great length, finding eventually that, inasmuch as the rates established by the commission in 1904, would allow a return of 2 1/2 per cent per annum on the cost of terminals, and 5 per cent per annum on the cost of the remainder of the line, the rates established were not confesatory; that this percentage was fairly liberal. The burden rests upon the railroad companies to show that the rates established were not reasonable, and it is held that the railroads have not sustained the burden in this case.

The origin of this case was a complaint filed with the railroad and warehouse commission in 1903, by Elias Steenson, of Crookston, alleging that the freight rates charged by the Great Northern company on grain, from Fisher and East Grand Forks to Minneapolis and Duluth, were excessive and out of proportion to the price of the grain, or the cost of maintaining and operating the road. He asked that the rate be reduced from 16 1/2 cents to 12 cents per hundred pounds. When the case came up for hearing, the Northern Pacific, and the Omaha and Milwaukee people asked to intervene, claiming that they were all interested alike in the establishment of rates. The commission refused to allow the intervention, and the Northern Pacific people appealed to the district court. In the meantime the commission went exhaustively into the question of rates, and Sept. 8, 1904, just about a year after the filing of the complaint, they fixed a mileage schedule of rates for the whole Great Northern system, which would reduce the rates complained of by Steenson from 16 1/2 to 14 1/2 cents per hundred pounds.

The Great Northern appealed to the district court of Ramsey county. The Northern Pacific was permitted to intervene. Judge Kerr gave a decision reversing the railroad and warehouse commission, and Attorney General Childs took an appeal to the supreme court. The decision now given is the result, and it means that the case must be tried over.

The decision is of great importance because it decides that the railroad and warehouse commission can legally reduce the rates on the railroads in this state; that the question of a reasonable rate is determined by ascertaining what,
under all the circumstances, is a reasonable income on the cost of reproducing
the road at the present time, and that the burden is on the railroad company

to show that the rates fixed by the commission are unreasonable. If, for instance, the commission should make a wholesale reduction of rates on the iron railroads running out of Duluth, the companies would be compelled to establish such rates unless they could prove to the courts that they were unreasonable.

CURRENCY REFORM.

A story comes from Washington that Secretary Gage has decided to recommend to congress, in the annual treasury report, the adoption of the propositions regarding currency reform which he laid before the banks of New York and other cities last summer. If this report be true, Mr. Gage will suggest to congress the refunding of the entire national debt into a new series of bonds bearing 3 per cent interest and payable principal and interest in gold; also an issue of $200,000,000 in gold bonds for the purpose of absorbing or retiring legal tenders and silver notes; further,
the selling of $200,000,000 of gold bonds
in Europe in order to procure ample gold to protect the reserve, and finally the authorization of national banks to issue notes upon United States bonds at par, and, in addition, notes not to exceed 5 per cent of the capital stock of any bank, these national bank notes to be legal tender.

While the refunding of the public debt at a low rate of interest would be a good thing, the proposition to make the principal and interest payable in gold instead of "coin," as the government is now pledged by the wording of its bonds, would undoubtedly meet strong opposition in congress. It will be remembered that President Cleveland tried to induce congress to authorize the issue of gold bonds, when he made his famous bargain with the Rothschild syndicate to repair the hole in the gold reserve, and although it was represented that a considerable amount would be saved thereby in interest, and although Speaker Reed declared to push a gold bond bill
through the house, the attempt failed.
There is no probability that the present congress would authorize a refunding of the public debt with the condition that the principal and interest shall be payable specifically in gold, and this suggestion by Secretary Gage will therefore be made in vain.

As to issuing bonds for retiring legal tender notes, the Omaha Bee, a staunch Republican organ, says it can be fideously predicted that such a recommendation would not meet the least consideration in congress. The Bee adds: "No party will assume the responsibility for such a policy, because there is very little popular support for
it. The very great majority such a policy does not want the legal notes retired at all, and they are irrevocably opposed to issuing bonds for their retirement. There will be no less opposition to issuing bonds for replenish-ing the gold reserve, unless circumstances shall arise making such a measure imperative, and this does not appear to be at all likely. In regard to allowing national banks to issue notes to the par value of United States bonds deposited to secure circulation, there is no sound objection to this, and the efforts of the numerous efforts that have been made to secure such authorization warrants the opinion that any further endeavor in this direction will be futile. Assuming the report regarding what the secretary of the treasury will recommend to be correct, it is very safe to say that none of the suggestions referred to will be adopted, while it is absolutely certain that some of them will not be adopted. The Bee might have appropriately added that the suggestions of the voluntary currency commission are likely to meet similar fate."

WEYLER'S STRANGE ACTION.

Gen. Weyler shows extreme reluctance to resign his command in Cuba.
The new captain general appointed by Premier Sagasta to take charge of the island has arrived at Havana, and is prepared to take the oath and assume control until Gen. Blanco arrives, but "the butcher" obstinately refuses to quit and still acts as captain-general,
although the government at Madrid
has sent him a peremptory order to vacate. This is a strange proceeding on Weyler's part, especially as he stated recently that he would do nothing to embarrass his country. Now he is doing everything possible to embarrass the government. He has been in the policy in Cuba. What the hom-bastic "butcher" will do next is uncertain. It is evident that he is in a very ugly mood and he is certainly in a position to make serious trouble.
It is said that Gen. Weyler wanted his successor to sign a written statement that the four Western provinces of Cuba have been pacified, but Castelanos refused to sign any such document, he has been in the field and knows the utter falsity of Weyler's claims. Two-thirds of the provinces of the island are still in insurrection,
and not one of these provinces has been subdued or pacified. Weyler's boastful dispatch have been false from beginning to end. The so-called Spanish victories, in most cases, existed
only in Weyler's imagination, and now that other men are to take charge of the campaign he knows that all his brags and bluffs will be exposed as devoid of foundation. Yet Gen. Blanco will not do much better, in all probability. He will need more troops, and Spain will find it difficult to repair the heavy losses treated by disease and rebel bullets among the forces in Cuba.
The New York Sun puts the case very clearly in these words:

"When the new captain general gets to Cuba, he will ascertain at once that the situation is not what he was told nothing less than a battle for independence, and that they will not lay down their arms to gain any reform that he can offer, or even for the sake of autonomy under Spain. It has always been the opinion of the Spanish government that they could be induced to accept something less than liberty, and Gen.

Blanco himself recently gave utterance to this opinion. He will get at the truth soon after he lands in Cuba. He will ascertain that the 'system' of which he has expressed his approval is not one that will satisfy revolutionary Cuba.
We do not believe that Blanco will be any more successful in Cuba than Weyler has been. It is probable, however, that, when he gets there, he will be brought to an understanding of the real situation which he has not understood in Spain."

TIED AND DISCOURAGED.

It is stated on very good authority in New York that another change in the presidency of the Northern Pacific railroad is imminent, and within three months Mr. Mellen will be succeeded by Dan Lamont, whom it was recently reported to be slated for this position.
President Mellen is said to be disgusted with the condition of things and to be ready to quit at once, throwing up the five-year contract in his desire to be freed from the insupportable weight of the moribund corporation. Mr.
Mellen is a first-class railroad man,
and it has not taken him long to perceive the great task which he must accomplish in order to put the road in good shape. He sees clearly that a radical change must be made in its policy if it would regain its lost popularity, which is essential in order to make it successful financially.

THE ANCIENT MARINER.

Pall Mall Gazette: The poem which, of all poems, is most full of the simple quality of poetry is assuredly not the according to its contemporaries, was a man of intellect, but a poet of intellect
they cannot be said to hold him against the evidence. As a poet he seems to have been almost incapable of thought.
When he tries to think for himself, let us
say the least, he is dull and unimaginative.
Even the thought necessary for the telling of a story fails him, so that his better stories fade out powerlessly unplanned and unthought of. "The Ancient Mariner" is beyond words foolish, a making havoc of a kind of culpability, reason and observation, never to be so wasted without disaster.

His almost indescribable beauty is that which no taking thought would have added to his verse. He had that exaltation of the senses which is the best thing that can befall a simple poet. Take, as an example, the exaltation of sight, the vision of the climbing of the moon—
it is one of many:

The moving moon went up the sky,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared.

And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared.

And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared.

And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared.

And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared,
And so the bright stars appeared.

HAZITT'S DEFEALCATION.

Company Is Protected By American Surety Company.

Mr. Warner, inspector of the American Surety company, is in the city looking up the accounts of Hazitt, the absconding partner of the steamship company. The American Surety company was on a guarantee bond for Hazitt in the Lake Michigan and Lake Superior Transportation company, and whatever his shortage with that company is the surety company will pay. The parties that got caught on his bond had to stand the racket. At Superior Detective McKinnon, who has been working on the case, has discovered several details which were needed to be the defaulter. Before leaving town he visited Poon & Leveson, clothing establishment, securing a brown checked suit for $6.50, a light brown overcoat for $11 and a soft hat for $1.25. He also procured a telephone number, where he put all his extra money. At W. A. Chambers' barber shop, on Taylor, Hazitt got his mustache shaved off, and also purchased a pair of spectacles at Tryon's jewelry store. He wore a $125 diamond ring on the third finger of his left hand. Nothing has been heard of Hazitt's whereabouts, but it is supposed he went West.

SAYS CONTRACT WAS ALTERED.

James Hart's Defense In a Suit on a Bond.

In the case of the United States for the benefit of a number of labor claimants against F. L. McDonald and his abettors, James Hart, Jr. and Antoine Paul, McDonald and Hart filed answers this morning to the intervening complaints of John Barnes and others. McDonald claims that the rate of wages he agreed to pay was lower than that claimed by the intervenors, and that he has offsets to the amount of their claims for board and arrangement. James Hart, Jr. says that after he had signed as one of McDonald's bondsmen the contract on which the latter was engaged was altered by agreement with the United States so that it was made larger without his knowledge or consent. He claims, therefore, that he is not liable on the bond, and he sets up in bar of the case against him that the court so decided in a former case. Allen, Baldwin & Baldwin are his attorneys.

C. O. Flynn Intervenes.

In the stockholders' liability case of J. C. Helm against the Smith-Pee company, C. O. Flynn this morning filed an intervening complaint. He says that the company purchased from S. Morrow and E. W. Smith the steamship Barker, assuming notes due Flynn to the amount of $1500. He claims that these notes have never been paid and he asks judgment for the full amount with interest. He also says that, though J. W. Fee afterwards transferred his stock to his father, the transfer was colorable only and that he is responsible for his share of the indebtedness. He wants judgment against him for the amount due. S. D. Allen is his attorney.

Probate Court Appeals.

Two appeals from the probate court have been filed in the district court. N. J. and A. J. Miller were allowed a claim of $1500 in the estate of Henry J. Bierman. The claim was for six years' care of Bierman, who was an inebriate, at $20 per year. It was allowed by the probate court, and Michael Norris and Simon Clark, creditors of the estate, took an appeal to the district court.

Another appeal is in the estate of James Sullivan. The court allowed the claim of the administrator of the estate has taken an appeal to the district court.

EXPIRES THIS WEEK

The Time For Extension of Assessments Will Be Up Saturday.

MAY BE EXTENDED

Aldermen Think City Should Go Ahead and Parallel Water Plant.

It is possible that the council may extend the time for making application for the extension of assessments, which, otherwise, will expire Saturday next, Oct. 23. As to the amount of the assessments extended up to the present time, Comptroller Lovett was unable today to give any idea, even approximately. Nor could he say how soon after the expiration of the time for making application the figures could be compiled.

City Treasurer Voss said that as nearly as he could estimate it, the amount renewed so far would run about $50,000. From all the information obtainable from the bureau of estimate, it would appear that this is about correct. It was stated by Mr. Voss that notwithstanding the publicity given, there are a great many people who are yet ignorant of the fact that an extension can be procured. Others are anxious to avail themselves of the privilege, but have been prevented as yet by inability to raise the penalties and interest. Mr. Voss gave it as his opinion that it would be advisable to extend the time, which the council can do by resolution.

SHOULD GO AHEAD.

That Is Opinion of the Aldermen as to City's Course.

The aldermen generally are inclined to the conclusion that the tone of the English bondholders' representatives at the recent conference between them and the mayor in Chicago indicates the possibility of further concessions. That the mayor sowed some seeds that will bear fruit later is generally agreed. But with this feeling the determination also to push the preparations for paralleling the present plant and the quo warranto proceedings against the gas and water company.

"We have done all we can to reach an agreement with the gas and water company," said a member of the council this morning. "Nothing more remains for us to do but go ahead."

City Attorney Richards will begin shortly to prepare for the trial of the quo warranto case. It will come on in the latter part of January and it will require a large part of the intervening time to prepare. The mass of evidence that will be submitted by the city attorney is enormous.

Aside from the quo warranto case, there are in the neighborhood of twenty-five cases in the district court in which the city is a party, those latter along with the current matters coming up from day to day being sufficient to keep the department busy.

Vokes-Clark Marriage.

Lester Park last evening was the scene of a very pretty wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Brown, Rev. G. E. Pickard, pastor of Lester Park M. E. church, officiating. The contracting parties were Miss Mary R. Vokes, sister of Mrs. Brown, and Frank J. Clark of Chicago. Both parties have resided in Duluth for many years and have a large circle of friends. Mr. Clark was formerly one of Duluth's business men, but for six years past has represented Walcott, Huribut & Co. of Chicago, his present territory being Minnesota and Wisconsin, with headquarters at Minneapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Clark left last evening for Minneapolis, their future home, with the best wishes of their friends for future happiness and prosperity.

Big Baking Powder Sale.

Capt. Frank Conlon, of Chicago, who represents the Dr. Price Baking Powder company, has been in the city for a week or two. He has just closed a sale of 100 casks of baking powder to the Stone-Ordeau-Voss company. It is an $8000 deal, and Capt. Conlon says it is the largest sale he has ever made in this part of the country. This sale gives a practical illustration of the importance which the jobbing trade of the city is attaching.

Shipments Being Reduced.

There are now in the pockets at the Duluth, Missabe & Northern docks about a ton of ore waiting shipment. Shipments from the mines are being steadily reduced, only about 9000 tons being received at the docks yesterday. The docks will be cleaned up before hard freezing weather sets in and the late shipments will be loaded direct from the cars to the boats.

WILL TAKE JUDGMENT.

County Attorney Will Push Payment of Tax Cases.

There is likely to be a decidedly new departure in personal property taxes this year. Some time ago The Herald stated that for once the judgments entered against those who were delinquent in the payment of their personal property would amount to something. This was under Acting County Attorney Phelps' matter up and carry out the plans formed by Mr. Phelps. In past years when a man did not pay his taxes he was about all there was to it. A judgment was entered on the books of the clerk's office, and an innocent scratch of a pen. If the judgment was by favor of a person or firm an execution would undoubtedly be entered and an effort made to take the amount out of the property of the delinquent. But as especially as nothing is exempt. But as the county was the creditor nothing was done, and those who had escaped a long time began to think that anyone who paid his personal property tax was "easy."

Contrary to the usual custom County Attorney Arbury will this year cause executions under the judgments that have been obtained. Probably not all of them will be forced in this manner, for there are some that will not be worth the expense of collection. But there are plenty that are, and they will be forced. In all the books of the clerk's office, there is a little of the same, which should result in quite a little sum for the county. Some of the judgments will amount to very pretty sums by themselves, such as that of the Duluth Gas and Water company, which now amounts to about $8,000.

Contractors' Bonds!

COURT BONDS, ASSIGNEES' BONDS, LODGE BONDS, SECURITY BONDS, American Bonding and Trust Co. 602 N. LAZYBORN, Cor. 4th & 14th Sts.

His Bond Renewed.

Clinton Markell, assignee of the H. H. Bell estate, has petitioned the court for permission to renew his bond at a lower figure, and Judge Moer allowed him to renew it at $25,000. In his petition the assignee stated that the old bond was for $100,000 in the American Surety company, that it had expired and that he did not think such a large bond was necessary. In the spring of 1896 the greater part of the property was sold and the bids on what was not confirmed by the court amounted to $19,531. He does not believe that it will be sold for much more than that. The funds in his hands have all been exhausted in paying interest on mortgages and in necessary expenses.

The Season For Moose.

The News Tribune this morning announced that the open season for moose begins Nov. 1 and runs to Nov. 5. This is liable to subject some people to punishment if they rely on this statement without consulting the law. The game law passed last winter provides that moose may be killed from Nov. 5 to Nov. 10. The law also makes it unlawful to ship any moose, deer, caribou, etc., out of the state. The parties who have come in here from outside the state will do well to note this provision.

St. Anthony's Church Fair.

At the bazaar for the benefit of St. Anthony's German Catholic church, at 222 West Superior street, a fine musical program will be given tonight, the main feature of which will be singing by the Concordia quartet. The contests will all be under way tonight and it is expected that they will open up at a lively rate. There is much of interest to see. Especially pleasing is the exhibit of paintings.

ARE NOT BOOMING NOW.

British Columbia Mines Feel Effect of the Klondike.

P. R. Vail returned today from a 4-weeks trip through the West. He visited Butte, Montana, Seattle and the mining regions of British Columbia. The mining camps in British Columbia, he says, are overrun with miners out of employment. Mine owners are offering their properties at very low prices compared with what they held them at a year ago, and are getting ready to go to Alaska. There all eyes pointed toward Peace river, the other side of Edmonton, where rich discoveries have recently been reported. Mr. Vail says that a number of Chinamen have been at work in that district for several years quietly panning out gold, and they are generally supposed to have accumulated fabulous sums. In Mr. Vail's opinion there will be at least 100,000 people making a rush for the Yukon early next spring, and he is not certain that he will not be one of the number. He thinks that the increased wages offered miners on the Minnesota ranges will result in bringing a large number of first-class miners now out of employment in British Columbia to Duluth. He left this afternoon for his home in Ely.

United States Court.

Capt. W. H. Campan was arrested yesterday on an indictment found against him by the grand jury in the United States district court, charged with the murder of a man named Fairbairn, of which he is master, into the bay. He pleaded not guilty and gave bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance.

Everyone Can Guess.

W. M. Abrahamson, the enterprising proprietor of the Hub Clothing store at 225 West Superior street, has a glass jar of beans in the front window of his store, and extends an invitation to all Duluth, either young or old, to call and make a guess on the number of beans the jar contains, which will be counted on Christmas day, and the one naming nearest to the exact number will be presented with the best $20 overcoat in the store. The Hub is now showing one of the most complete stocks of men's and boys' suits and overcoats at the head of the lakes, and characteristic of Mr. Abrahamson, it is not necessary to make a purchase to entitle you to a guess—that is free to all.

WEST ENDERS SWINDLED.

Nice Looking Young Man Worked the Housewives.
Certain West End housewives are looking for a nice looking young man, who wheeled them out of $2 each on the promise to send them twice the worth of their money in spices and flavoring extracts by and bye. He was to give them $2 worth of goods for $1, collecting $2 of the price in advance. He might have had the other $2 also just as well as not, for he was so very good looking and had such a very nice way with him. But he generously let the balance stand until the delivery of the goods. This display of trust and confidence contributed almost as much as the young man's good looks and his nice way to his success. It is said that he carried away about $30 as the result of three days' work. There are at least twenty-five houses in Central Duluth, therefore, where it will be dangerous for peddlers and such to call for a month or two.

Klondike Gold Nuggets.

James C. Potter arrived in Duluth this morning with a sack of Klondike gold dust weighing 150 pounds. The display of precious metal, much of which is in nuggets as large as hazel nuts, caused quite an excitement up and down Superior street, but that was nothing compared to the excitement over the announcement of the Hub Clothing company, 225 West Superior street. A jar of beans is on exhibition in the front window, and all Duluth is privileged to guess. The person guessing first nearest to the amount of beans in the jar will be presented with a $20 union made overcoat. All guesses are recorded in a book in rotation. Beans will be counted Christmas day by a committee. It is not necessary to make a purchase to guess. Step in and register your guess.

Dismissed the Case.
The case against Alfred Nelson and Fred Kenear, the boys charged with stealing a quantity of scrap iron from a St. Paul & Duluth car at West Duluth a couple of weeks ago, was dismissed this morning by Judge Edson on motion of the prosecution. The reason for the motion to dismiss, as stated by the assistant city attorney, was that the St. Paul & Duluth car failed to produce the articles of incorporation of the company, as requested by him, in order to make out the case.

DULUTH LEFT OUT

Not Included in the Reduction of Insurance Rates in the State.

THE REASON GIVEN

Wrangling Between Council and Fire Department Alleged as the Cause.

It transpires that the recent reduction in insurance rates made throughout the state covers all classes of risks elsewhere than in Duluth. Here, the reduction was made in special risks such as elevators, etc., and the local agents allowed it to be understood that these risks were all to which the reduction applied anywhere in the state. Information to the contrary was dug up by Chief Black during his visit in St. Paul early in the week. The rates, outside of Duluth, have been reduced 15 cents on all mercantile risks and 20 per cent on all other risks. When he learned the truth, Chief Black registered a roar right there. The excuse given for not including Duluth in the general reduction is that the council and the fire department are in a wrangle. Mayor Truesen has called the attention of the insurance people to the fact that the fire department is under the control of the city commissioners and that there is perfect harmony between the commissioners and the department. He has assured them that the benefit of the general reduction in a short time, possibly within a month.

WILL RIDE OVER IT.

Commissioners to Take a Trip Over Miller Road.
The Miller trunk road is completed between here and Eveleth, and there is now in use or ready for use a complete and serviceable road, one of the best in the county, between here and that city. The contractors have all completed their work and the camps have been pulled up and taken away. Monday the county commissioners and all the contractors went over for a trip over the road, and it will be inspected all along its length. If it is satisfactory it will be accepted, and the contractors may rest easy. As the camps have all been taken away, the commissioners will have to camp out several nights, live on bacon and other camp fare and sleep under the wagon.

As the bills are not all in yet it is impossible to get the amount the road has cost the county, but it will be very fair sum when all the items are gathered together. The contractors will probably be that of surveying, which for the whole road, including that around Lake Vermilion and the connecting road between that and Eveleth, which was not built, will be about $25,000. The contractors were let at very fair figures, it is said, and some of the contractors claim that they have lost money on the work.

Charter Commission Meeting.
The charter commission will hold its first meeting Saturday evening at the office of Avers, Morris & Greene in the First National Bank building. The meeting was called for the purpose of organizing.

Ladies' Relief Society.
A meeting of the Ladies' Relief society will be held on Monday, Oct. 25, at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. A. M. Miller. A full attendance is requested as important business will come before the meeting.

EXCHANGE IS POSTPONED.
Cincinnati People Like the Sixth Infantry Greatly.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The heavy pressure brought to bear upon the war department to prevent the removal of the Sixth Infantry from Cincinnati, near Cincinnati, has had the effect to postpone for a time the projected exchange of stations of troops. The war department has been urged to allow the Sixth to remain near Cincinnati until next August, when the G. A. R. encampment takes place. Secretary Alger intended to place these troops in Texas, in consideration of the fact that they had been seven years at their present station, while the Twenty-third infantry, which was to take their place, had been about the same length of time at Fort Clarke in Texas. The Eighteenth infantry, which is distributed between Fort Bliss and Fort Sam Houston, in Texas, has been even longer in that country, their detail running back nine years and three months, so Secretary Alger is about to bring them to Jefferson Barracks, near St. Louis.

THE IRON ORE TRADE.

A Little Buying Continues But the Supply Limited.

Cleveland, Oct. 22.—The Iron Trade Review has the following in regard to the iron ore market: A little buying continues, an inquiry for 25,000 tons of one kind being in the market, but on the basis of the average closing of navigation the selling season is closed for nearly all interests. Offers on a possible $6000-ton transaction, most of them at an advance of 30 to 50 cents, were not accepted. Any attempt now to make out a mixture would probably be futile. A prolongation of open weather, of which there is some prospect, would make a little more available from certain mines. A lowering of rates before the close of navigation, which must be counted as a possibility, since chartering at 65 cents from Duluth is light, would aid in bringing down even more than the enormous expected amount, though it is doubtful that mines having an allotment, and yet declining to operate on account of the low prices of the year, would now attempt to make a small output. It is apparent that most of the ore is covered by season contracts. With a general association next year, it is conceded that prices will be a little, and only a little, higher, but hardly different in the event of a failure to organize.

FATAL PREMATURE BLAST.

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 22.—At 10 o'clock today the premature explosion of a blast in A. J. Snyder's cement quarry killed Arnold Johnston instantly and inflicted probably fatal injuries on three others named Bailey, Shadner and Johnston.

MONUMENT PLEASED HIM.

And Emperor William Made a Few Appropriate Remarks.

Carlsruhe, Oct. 22.—Emperor William yesterday inspected the monument in honor of his grandfather, William I., erected on the Kaiserplatz. Replying to the burgomaster's address, his majesty said: "This monument is a palladium which strengthens us for the great aim we have in view. Just as it was pleasant and view the emperor sitting at his writing table window and then proceed to their duties more cheerful of heart, may everyone who holds this metal monument find therein exhortation to joyfully do his duty for the welfare of the town and fatherland."

His majesty concluded with calling for three cheers for the grand duke of Baden.

Judge Sutherland, of Detroit, Appointed Indian Agent.

Sutherland, of Detroit, Minn., had been appointed to succeed him, and he left for White Earth this afternoon to turn over the office whenever he is called upon to do so. His term expired Oct. 11, and he has been expecting to hear of the appointment of Judge Sutherland every day, it having been settled some months ago that he was to have the place. John H. Sutherland, the newly appointed agent, has for some time been prominent in the local politics of Detroit, and was for a long time judge of probate of Becker county. Since going out of office he has been engaged in the grain business. His appointment comes as a reward for political service.

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1897.

MINNESOTA
HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

OUR STATEMENTS MAY SEEM LARGE

BUT WE BACK THEM UP WITH A QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF THE BEST
MERCHANDISE THAT MONEY CAN BUY.

Last spring, anticipating an advance in merchandise, we placed orders with importers for over sixty thousand dollars worth of Fall Goods. In July, seeing that the advance would be greater than expected, $50,000.00 more were added to our former purchases, and in August over twenty thousand dollars worth of Cloaks were purchased, all for spot cash, making a grand total of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars worth of new fall and winter goods that were contracted for before the advance arrived. This forethought has placed us in a position to undersell any house in the Northwest and every dollar's worth will be sold at old prices, notwithstanding the fact that they are worth today from 10 to 40 per cent more.

Our fame as bargain-givers has become widespread and has been justly earned—our supremacy has compelled acknowledgment times without number, and today this store stands peerless and foremost at the head of Lake Superior. All that is necessary to convince you that it will be very much to your interest to do your shopping here is a visit of inspection and a critical comparison of styles, quality, assortment and prices. Ladies who have been repeatedly humbugged by deceitfully worded advertisements will enjoy trading at a store where every promise made to the public is considered sacred and where every article sold is guaranteed exactly as represented. Several hundred Duluth ladies are regular customers here and hundreds more would be if they were aware of the many advantages offered them. Read the following items and come and see the goods. We will forfeit $100.00 if you find a single article that is misrepresented.

STYLISH MILLINERY!

Perhaps the most interesting spot in our whole store is the Millinery Department. There is a peculiar tone—a strong individuality characterizing every piece of headwear, and proclaiming it better than the ordinary kind. Without exception our collection of perfect modes represented in our grand assortment of Pattern Hats is unequalled. Good value giving has always been made a special feature—we sell millinery at a regular dry goods rate of profit and it has made us many friends. It is now just the proper time for your new Fall Hat—look around before you buy and be sure you have seen all and are well pleased before you do buy.

MILES OF CLAIMS

Little Minook Valley In Alaska Develops Some Very Rich Gold Mines.

HARD TO GET THERE

Several Districts All on This Side of the Boundary Are Rich.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—James Dietrich, a miner of experience in California, South America and South Africa, has just returned from Alaska where he spent some time in the Minook River valley. He says: "While there have been 200 claims staked on the streams at Minook, Hunter, Hooser, Miller and Chapman, there is little known about any but Little Minook."

On the Little Minook the mile of claims which have been opened have proved very rich. The pay streak is from eight to twenty feet wide and six to twenty feet deep. It is all gravel wash. That is evidence to me that the quartz will be very rich.

With the Birch and Minook districts filed, the prospectors will have to get into the Russian and Drakel creeks and the Kouyukuk river district. The latter valley is 100 miles long, and the rich territory is found some distance out from the stream. This is now reached by tramping over the mountains from Port Hamilton, a distance of 150 miles, across two mountain ranges. With sledges and seven dogs, two men can take one side-saddle load of provisions, the other two being required to carry food for the dogs. This is usually kept all men out of the district.

A letter from Rampart City, Alaska, the center of the Minook district, says: "Deputy Collector Ross, of Chicago, has made investments in the new fields." D. F. Baxter and C. Johnson have purchased No. 12, on Minook. James D. Booge, of Sioux City, and H. E. Hubbard, of Chicago, bought the Discoverer claim for $5000. Baxter has also purchased a half interest in another claim in Minook and one in Hunter No. 6, on Minook is the claim out of which it is asserted 12 ounces were taken in thirty working days. The owners have refused $40,000 for this claim but would sell for $35,000.

CAPT. HOOPER'S REPORT.

A Food Scarcity—Some New Gold Districts.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Capt. Hooper, commander of the Bering sea patrol fleet, who has arrived in Washington to attend the seal conference, said today that the reports concerning the scarcity of food in the Klondike region are not in his judgment exaggerated. In the neighborhood of Dawson City there are, he said, about 5000 miners, whose supply of provisions is running low. The winter is no greater than barely enough for half that number during the winter. Great suffering would ensue if the inevitable result of this scarcity of food.

Although some of the more vigorous among the miners might attempt to get away on the ice of the Yukon, the chances are that a considerable number of these would perish from hunger and exposure. All of the passes were practically closed some weeks ago, and many hundreds of miners are now alone the different trails with little or no shelter and without sufficient food supply.

Late reports, Capt. Hooper said, indicate that rich discoveries have been made on Minook creek, a tributary of the Yukon which empties into it about 700 or 800 miles from its mouth. These new fields proved as rich in gold as the anticipated rich region. The discovery in the Klondike brought the relief as soon as spring opened. Minook creek is comparatively within easy reach of St. Michael's, as steamers have little difficulty in ascending the river to that point when navigation above it is impossible on account of low water. It was near Minook creek that the last Klondike gold rush was compelled to unload her cargo of provisions, so that the miners in that section are in little danger of food famine that threatens other camps.

Capt. Hooper expects a great rush of people into the gold region as soon as spring opens, and he has no doubt that the tales told of the immense gold deposits will be fully verified.

A SPOKANE TRAGEDY.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 22.—When Mrs. A. J. Lynch entered the residence of C. W. Kessler late yesterday afternoon, a shocking scene was presented. Mrs. Kessler was dead from a ghastly wound in the throat and near by lay her 4-year-old son with a bullet through his head. The husband and father is under the city prison, half insane, and under suspicion of having killed his wife and child. He protests his innocence and claims that his wife killed their child and committed suicide. Physicians think the child may recover.

KILLED AT SANDSTONE.

Sandstone, Oct. 22.—The night yardmaster of the Eastern railroad at this place, Bert Livengood, was run over by a train and killed at about midnight Thursday night. The body was taken to Superior, where a brother of the dead man lives. The funeral takes place today.

St. Paul, Oct. 22.—The state investment board has authorized loans to districts 22, 31 and 33 of St. Louis county, amounting to $12,000 for the first and $500 to each of the others.

BEFORE HOT SPRINGS

long my throat was filled with sores, large lumps formed on my neck, and a horrible ulcer broke out on my jaw,—says Mr. O. H. Elbert, who resides at 224 St. and Avenue N., Galveston, Texas. He was three times pronounced cured by prominent physicians, but the dreadful disease always returned; he was then told that was the only cure. His hair had all fallen out, and he was in a sad plight. After taking one bottle of S. S. S. he began to improve and two dozen bottles cured him completely. He has had no sign of the disease.

TAPPED THE WIRES.

Swindlers Near Louisville Do Up the Bookies For Large Amounts.

Cincinnati, Oct. 22.—Wire tapping somewhere between Latonia track and Louisville yesterday caused the loss of the fourth race and Takanassee in the fifth to be falsely reported winners. The Enquirer's Louisville special says: "On account of a manipulated report of the state central stakes, run at Latonia yesterday the local pool room cashed tickets, really void, just after the race was run."

When the report of the race began to come in there was considerable delay on account of wire trouble. The pool rooms never pay until the official account is received from the wire. The wire from Latonia, the track distributing point. It came and went wire from Latonia. The stakes in Louisville were cashed in.

The Exchange and New Market were both hit hard, the former losing about $2700 and the latter $3000. The loss in the wire was tapped at the Latonia end of the wire, and have put the detectives on the case. No money was lost on Takanassee. Only the Latonia betting was affected by the scheme.

LORD SALISBURY'S REPLY.

The British Premier on the Monetary Proposals.

London, Oct. 22.—The marquis of Salisbury, in his note to the French ambassador, Baron de Courcel, regarding the monetary question, says that by far the most important proposal submitted is that concerning the reopening of the Indian mines. He adds: "The government of India points out that it can hardly be expected to give up a policy which it has been able to maintain for so long, and which has been substituted in place of the old system of the area over which the metallic system is to be established. The reopening of the mines is a matter of great importance, and the government of India is not strong enough to be expected to reverse a policy which has been maintained for so long, and which has been substituted in place of the old system of the area over which the metallic system is to be established."

GREENWAY'S ROAD.

Attorney General Cameron Finds All Legal Difficulties Can Be Overcome.

Winnipeg, Oct. 22.—J. D. Cameron, attorney general, who has returned from New York, where, during the past month, he has been engaged in looking into the legal aspects of Premier Greenway's Duluth air route scheme, is still silent on the result of his trip, but it is understood that he has met with pleasing results. The point he wished to establish was whether a railway could be made for a railway. Cameron's report is that the government of the province has agreed upon between one of the government and the company. It is believed that the company has agreed to a satisfactory conclusion in this matter.

The rejection by the Creek legislature of the Daves commission agreement for the rehabilitation of the Creek reservation has been a matter of great concern to the Indian department authorities. They regarded it as of great significance affecting other tribes with whom the states of the nation have treaties.

A RULER OF TURKEY

Study of Sultan Abdul Hamid By One Who Knows Him.

His Love of Gold and His Belief In Its Great Potency.

Somebody who conceals his identity, but claims to have had special sources of information at Constantinople, gives in the Review des Revues a curious picture of the sultan, his aspirations, and the means by which he is able to play the European powers against one another while he works his will. The writer refers to the story that Abdul Hamid is really the son of an Armenian clockmaker in the bazaar at Constantinople, and cites in proof of it his features, which are those of an Armenian artisan in the bazaar, his fondness for making locks, and his hatred of Armenians. He considers the matter important, as having influenced the sultan's bent of mind, most noticeable in his policy.

THE DEER SEASON

Will Open Monday In Minnesota and Nov. 1 In Wisconsin.

KILLING IS LIMITED

Five Deer Allowed One Person—License Is Necessary In Wisconsin.

Next Monday the deer season will be open, and there is a great deal of preparation for the event going on. Deer are said to be very plentiful and hunters also will be plenty. A number of outside parties have come in for the opening and they will be on the ground at the earliest moment. The slaughter is limited by law, as one person is allowed to kill but five deer, and none are to be shipped unless they are accompanied by a person not an employee of a common carrier.

In Wisconsin there is a new departure in the way of limitations. The hunter must obtain a license from the clerks of certain counties before he can kill any deer, and while the Wisconsin hunter only has to pay $1 for his license the outsider must pay up $20. The season in that state does not open until Nov. 1.

The moose season is something new in Minnesota, at least for a number of years. During all this time the moose and caribou have been under the protection of the law all the year around until this year, when the legislature fixed Nov. 5 to 10 as the season during which the big game may be killed. The protection of the law was thrown about the animals, however, and it is said that they were in danger of extermination, and it is said that the idea has been a beneficial one, for the moose have been killed there have been no open slaughter, and as a consequence moose and caribou are said to be more plentiful than they have been in years.

LOOKED LIKE READY CASH.

How a Broadway Tramp Sized Up President Greaser.

President Greaser has been quietly telling a few of his intimate friends of a little incident that happened to him on a recent visit to New York. Of course his friends have been spreading it and it is now no secret.

One beautiful morning Mr. Greaser was walking down Broadway with that easy, gentle stroll which is peculiarly his own. He was as usual, faultlessly dressed and his face wore that expression which indicates entire satisfaction with everything in this world and peace with all that is around him. As Mr. Greaser mused merrily along there was probably not a more good-natured looking individual on Broadway. Suddenly a man stepped up and stopped him. There was no mistaking his profession. He was one of the great army of the unemployed—a tramp, one who follows the business because he loves it. He looked Mr. Greaser over with the eye of a connoisseur and then with a winning smile remarked:

"Well, I don't know you, but you look more like 'ready cash' than any man I've ever seen. Can you lend me a quarter to get a dinner?"

The result of the remark showed the tramp was a very clever judge of human nature. Mr. Greaser was so tickled that he pulled out a silver dollar and handed it to the fellow. He pursued his walk a broad smile illuminated his face and the more he thought over the remark the broader became the smile.

PRICES GO UPWARD.

Costs Money to Buy Soft Coal at Present.

Soft coal prices are going skyward and the circular prices have been thrown to the winds. The circular says $2.50 per ton for Hocking coal, but no one can buy Hocking for that price. The purchaser will be lucky if he gets it at less than $3 a ton, and it may not long be higher.

Coal is coming in slowly, the number of cargoes is fairly good, but they are small and are about equally divided between hard and soft coal. During the month thus far about thirty cargoes or thereabouts have arrived, but they will not average more than 1500 or 1600 tons each. All of the coal men are more than ever convinced that there will be a shortage of coal here. At any rate the price is almost certain to continue high, because if boats enough were secured to bring the coal up it would undoubtedly be at a high freight rate.

FOR A SUMMER RESORT.

E. Z. Williams Offering the Wakelin Farm For That Purpose.

E. Z. Williams, who owns what is known as the Wakelin farm, a 180-acre tract of land which lies on the lake shore adjoining the city limits on the east, is negotiating with some capitalists who have Duluth in mind as a desirable place for locating a summer hotel and a number of cottages. The Wakelin farm is very pleasantly situated for this purpose, lying as it does between the lake and the Duluth & Iron Range railroad. It has a good harbor where pleasure boats could be sheltered and from Duluth make easy landings. Good fishing streams are to be found only a short distance away. For several summers the farm has been a popular place for campers, who have been permitted to use it freely. Mr. Williams hopes that something may result from the negotiations now pending, for he believes that the farm who are at the head of the enterprise are thoroughly conversant with the business and would make a success of it.

Bishop Morrison Returns.

Bishop Morrison returned yesterday after a month's absence visiting parishes and missions in his diocese. He will remain here until Sunday afternoon, when he will leave for a tour through the portion of his diocese east of the Mississippi river. He will then visit the diocese of North Dakota, which has been placed in his charge temporarily. He will be present at the Sunday morning service at St. Paul's church.

WANTS HIM REMOVED.

Petition Being Circulated Against Postmaster Hellinski.

Judge S. F. White is circulating a petition asking for the removal of Postmaster T. M. Hellinski on the ground that he refused to appoint F. H. Barnard, an old soldier, assistant postmaster. Judge White considers that Mr. Hellinski's refusal to appoint Mr. Barnard was an affront to the army veterans and was in bad taste. He thinks in view of the fact that Mr. Barnard has been selected by Mr. Fisher to be his assistant when he secures the office, and as Mr. Hellinski is to serve but a few months more, the proper and graceful thing to have done would have been to appoint Mr. Barnard. In the failure to do so Mr. White sees sufficient ground to ask for Mr. Hellinski's removal.

In connection with the appointment Postmaster Hellinski says: "No one asked or suggested that I appoint Mr. Barnard and Mr. Fisher has never indicated to me that he intended Mr. Barnard to be assistant postmaster. I have seen in the newspapers that Mr. Barnard has been selected by Mr. Fisher, but that is the only knowledge of it. If Mr. Fisher or his friends thought that I ought to appoint Mr. Barnard, why did they not come to me and say so. I don't mean to say that I would have agreed to do so. I certainly would have received the suggestion in a kindly and courteous manner. I do not think Mr. Fisher or his friends expected me to do anything of the kind. They undoubtedly recognize the fact that the assistant postmaster is practically my confidential clerk. They will also agree with me, I think, that politically it might have lost me many friends and gained me new ones to be appointed Mr. Barnard. But I have never allowed politics to enter into the postoffice and my every action has been made with a view to the good of the service."

ARE NOT SO EASY.

Many Moose Hunters Will Go Home Disappointed.

Dr. William H. Magie is something of an authority on moose hunting and he has little fear that his favorite game will suffer much from the numerous expeditions that have been organized against them. In fact, he does not believe that the moose can be caught successfully with a palace car. Dr. Magie has just returned from the northern part of the state where he did some hunting for small game. He says that moose are plenty, but they are not to be found in the neighborhood of the railroad track. They have a faculty of avoiding the iron rails and he does not think that any party of hunters who do not have at least 100 miles from any road will catch sight of a moose. He was just on the edge of the moose country and saw two fine specimens of this much-coveted game, but he was not after them and kept out of their territory.

Many of the hunters from the East, who are now pouring into the woods north of here, will be disappointed that they can run their cars on to a sidetrack at Deer River or some other station with a name and shoot all kinds of animals out of the car window. They are apt to be greatly disappointed, for if they see anything worth shooting they will have to travel many weary miles through the woods.

AMUSEMENTS.

"PRINCE RUDOLPH."

Tonight Otis Skinner will appear at the Lyceum. Otis Skinner is one of the greatest favorites upon the American stage, and he takes rank as the greatest in the country in the estimation of the critics in the delineation of the great male roles of the romantic drama. The play which Mr. Skinner will present is a new one, a romantic comedy, which has been adapted from one of Robert Louis Stevenson's most charming and powerful novels. The author has been successful in preserving the charmingly delicate atmosphere with which Mr. Stevenson has surrounded his people, and he has turned out a play which is said to please the most captious. The story is dramatic and the situations and climaxes are all that can be desired.

"NEVER AGAIN."

Monday evening "Never Again" will be produced at the Lyceum. This was one of the great successes in New York last season. From the opening performance, during a run of six months, standing room was at a premium every night. One of the most eminent critics of the metropolis is quoted in the following words: "The audience was glued to the plush seats for two and a half hours by laughter, which filled the auditorium, crept out into the lobby, and could be heard on Broadway a block away."

His Farewell Sermon.

Rev. C. L. Lehmann, who has been the pastor of the German Methodist church of this city for the past two years, will deliver his farewell sermon next Sunday, after which he will go to his home at Waterville, Me. He will be succeeded by the Rev. J. W. Rathke, of Wausau, Minn. Rev. Mr. Lehmann is an earnest, conscientious worker, and stood high in the esteem of his congregation and all with whom he came in contact in this city, and the best wishes follow him to his new field.

Cold Weather Coming.

Early this morning large numbers of wild geese passed over the city, flying southward, while last night about 5 o'clock hundreds of flocks of ducks, geese and brant were seen pursuing the same course.

Has Organized a Company.

Cliff L. Gilbert has organized the Red Cliff Lumber company to cut and saw the pine on the Red Cliff Indian reservation. It has been incorporated in the state of Wisconsin. Frederick L. Gilbert, Duluth, president; J. J. Lovejoy, of Janesville, vice president; Edward T. Buxton, of Superior, treasurer; Henry H. Foster, of Merrill, Wis., secretary. The general offices will be at Bayfield.

Council Cannot Interfere.

The city attorney holds that the bill of Bayha & Co. for mattresses and bedding for the fire department must be paid, in accordance with opinion previously rendered that the council cannot interfere with the fire commissioners in the matter of purchasing miscellaneous supplies.

Enlarging Their Store.

KASSMIR CHARGED

The Police Officer Is Once More Plunged Into Hot Water.

CHARGES ARE FILED

August Straub, an Old Man, Accuses Him of Cruel Treatment.

Officer Marcus Kassmir is "on the carpet" again. He seems to have a faculty amounting to genius for getting into hot water. This time, he is accused of mistreating an old man named August Straub, with whom he got into a dispute Sunday. Mr. Straub's boy, it appears, shied a stone through a window of the old Cleveland school building Sunday morning while church services were being held therein by a Jewish congregation. Mr. Kassmir, who was one of worshippers, rushed out and caught the boy and told him he was going to the station. The boy howled and Straub, Sr., appeared on the scene. The latter said he would pay for the window and demanded the release of the boy. Mr. Kassmir is accused of having said that it would take $100 to settle it and refused to give up the captive. Then Mr. Straub grabbed his son and tried to pull him away from Kassmir, and the latter grabbed Straub and tore his shirt. At this juncture, several female members of the congregation rushed out of the building and fell foul of Mr. Straub, it is said, and when they got through with him there were several more rips in his shirt.

Mr. Straub made complaint to Chief Hansen and Mr. Kassmir's wife. He has a "double shuffle" at headquarters this afternoon.

SENT TO CLEVELAND.

Capt. Green's Remains Were Shipped to That Place.

Capt. W. J. Green returned today from Ashland, where he attended to the remains of his brother, F. W. Green, who was killed Tuesday by a chunk of ore. Capt. Green was standing twelve feet away from the point where the ore was loading, and a piece of ore, so heavy that one man could scarcely lift it, fell on his head, killing him instantly. The remains were shipped to Cleveland, to be buried in the city. Capt. Green was a member of the Ashland high school football team in 1871 and up to the time when he moved to Cleveland. He was well known and a great favorite. He leaves a wife to whom he was married in 1881 and five children. His father and mother live here, as well as the following brothers and sisters: W. J. Green, Arthur Green, Mrs. J. W. Fee and Mrs. E. S. Smith. Another sister, Mrs. Frank M. Thomas, lives in Ashland, Virginia. He was 39 years of age. He was a member of the Macabees, in which order he had been initiated in 1904. He had seventeen master's papers, and was the holder of several other degrees. He had been in the employ of the American Steel Large company.

IS NOT DEAD YET.

High School Football Team Still Has Life.

Any one who had any idea that the Duluth high school football team was likely to disband should have been in the grounds during practice yesterday afternoon. There were about twenty of the boys out, and where it has been difficult lately to get out a team there were plenty of players ready to go ahead with renewed energy. The temporary lack of interest was due to the illness of several of the members of the team, but now interest has been revived and the team is ready to go ahead. There will be a game Saturday with the Endon team, the same one that recently defeated the team from the Superior high school. The game will be played at the West End ball park. The team is in good shape it is expected that the game will be a very scrappy one. Nearly all of the school and a large number of outsiders.

A game will be played with the Ashland team Saturday night, and will be other with the Superior team about the middle of November, which may be the last of the season.

Senior Class Election.

The senior class of the Duluth high school held its election yesterday afternoon and the following selection of officers was made: President, Mason Forbes; vice president, India Willcuts; secretary, Albert Stevens; treasurer, Roy Parks; historian, India Willcuts; poet laureate, Frank Edson; sergeant-at-arms, Chester Tibbitts. There was a long discussion over the Halowen party that it has been the regular custom of the class to give, and it was decided that it would be given this year.

Made His Second Trip.

George S. Huse, the veteran baggage-master, has lived in Duluth for more than a quarter of a century, and has held the position he now fills ever since. There has been such a place in existence. During all that time he has been to Superior just twice and he made his second trip over the bay in twenty years. He was on the Journey was before the day of bridges and railroads and he traveled by boat, but Wednesday he took a car to the west and reached his destination with a very comfortable trip. He makes that town, but as he likes Duluth so very much he never returned on the same day.

POOR BUT OBSTINATE.

Frank Kriz Suffers Want But Has His Own Way.

The police department was notified yesterday afternoon that Frank Kriz, an old resident of Duluth, was lying sick in an old barn at 348 St. Croix avenue. Chief Hansen visited the place and found the old man stretched out on a bench suffering with rheumatism. He was wrapped in an old overcoat and his feet were bundled up in an old quilt. An ancient horse light, doubled, served as a mattress. Through a grimy window at his feet hung a little light globe. The head was a thin board partition separating the stall from the room in which the horse was kept. In the room between that in which the old man lay and the outer door was stored a quantity of old rubbish and lumber. The ground on which the stable stands is wet and noxious odor filled the structure.

Mr. Kriz said he had been there a long time. "Mrs. Brown, on whose premises the barn stands, said about a month ago, 'I've come to her house and asked for a place to sleep, and she, having no room for me, told me to go to the barn. I was in the barn and there he had made his home. He was a very old man, but his left arm was so crippled by rheumatism that he has not been able to do any playing for some time. He says, 'Mrs. Brown has been furnishing him with food.'"

The ambulance was sent for and he was taken to the hospital. His children here who are able and willing to care of him, it is said, but his wife, who is now in the hospital, has been told to go home. They wanted him to live with them, but she refused to do so. They made arrangements for a home for him with an old friend at Beaver Bay, but he refused to go there also. People who are acquainted with the circumstances say that he has an overweening fondness for the flowing bowl and that he alone is to blame for his condition.

AN INVENTOR'S REWARD.

A young man employed at $1.80 a day in one of the factories in New Britain, Conn., recently invented an attachment to a machine on which he was working which promises to be of great value, says the Springfield Republican. Four men were employed on this machine prior to his invention, and its use was about to be abandoned because of the expense attending the running of it. The young man devised an attachment which, when applied to the machine, permitted one boy to attend it and he can run out as much work as the four men could previously. This machine is run regularly every day, and it is doing good work at a saving of $4 a day over former cost. The president of the company gave the young man a check for $25.

THE DOG CAME BACK.

A medical man in London lost his dog. It was not a beauty, but handsome enough to be stolen, and it was a great loss to him. He hit upon an ingenious device for recovering it at a cheap price. He put he following advertisement in the paper: "Lost, a small black dog, from Mayfair street; if of no value even to the owner, but kind-hearted persons who have been moved to take it are warned not to do so, as the animal has been much exposed to vermin and is therefore an excellent advertising medium. The dog can be had the same day, in time for afternoon tea."

LAKESIDERS ARE HOT.

Say They Will Get After the Street Railway Company.

The Lakeside people are grumbling loudly over the inadequate street car service accorded them. They are waiting for Superior street and Grand avenue to be put in shape, and then they propose to turn the screws a little. The company's charter provides for a 15-minute service from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., and a motor will be made to compel the company to comply with this requirement.

Ex-Alderman Coventry introduced, when he was a member of the council, a resolution requiring the company to fulfill its obligations in this respect and the company, in order to effect a compromise, made all sorts of fair promises. It represented to the good people of Lakeside and the city generally that it would be a great hardship to conform to the 15-minute service requirement and if the good people would only let up a little the company would put on enough more cars to make the service at least tolerable. In response to this the council took its foot off the pedal and the company's tail so to speak, whereupon, say the Lakesiders, the company at once dropped its attitude and has slumbered ever since.

The Lakeside people say that they have agreed to do it with small cars and few of them and have given up trying to get to church up town on Sunday, but they do think that some provision, at least one extra car, should be vouchsafed on extra occasions when there is a special attraction up town. On the eve of the Redpath concert at the Methodist church, there was only the regular car, and a "dinky" car at that, to take the Lakesiders home. It was jammed to suffocation and many ladies were compelled to stand on the platform as far as Fifth avenue east, a distance of four miles.

There have been growls, too, from the city end of the line during the summer season, such a thing as an extra car on the occasion when there were public picnics and outings at Lester Park was unknown. The regular patrons of the line were angry at the situation, if they were able to get to and from the street railway. When the picnic at Lester Park, a number of the picnicers here were actually compelled to remain at the park all night.

When the Lakeside folks get after the Lakeside company again, promises are being made that the Lakeside contingent of summer patrons of the line will say amen.

SCHOOL DISTRICT ROW.

Several Suits Begun in the District Court.

Four suits yesterday against the trustees of school district No. 21, to recover amounts to about $1400, and there is a row in the district back of the suits. John Simet sues on an assigned order for $25 for salary as teacher and janitor for $69.21 on orders for the retention of her money, and W. A. Olmsted for $22.41 on orders for the retention of the new school house. The teacher worked five months without getting a salary, and she had to get trusted for her board she had to stay there after school closed, hence she got $18 for board.

The new school house was built some time ago, and the trustees claim that for officials who caused it to be built and who authorized the issuance of the orders on which suit is brought had no right to take the action they did take. The trouble arose over a dispute as to the election of officers, and the district was then in a state of anarchy. This year they have boarded up the new school house and are holding the old one. The trustees have been in use ever since the district was formed. George A. Arbury and N. H. Hensley are the attorneys for the creditors.

WANTED THE WIDOW.

But Also Wanted to Provide For Emergencies.

The man with the gray goatee stood silently along the counter and looked cautiously around when the drug clerk in Kyrle Bellows banged appeared on the other side, says the Detroit Free Press.

"Say," he whispered hoarsely, "do you keep any real good hair dye?"

"Sure," said the clerk.

"And you know something about this hair dye they're going to have in Bulgaria?"

"Oh, the imbroglio with Spain. I suppose you have heard of it."

"Yes, that's the way it's headed in the papers. Think they're going to fight?"

"Not very likely. Going to dye one way or another, are you?"

"Say, that's pretty good. I caught on all right. But I ain't jokin'. Wuz you ever married, young man?"

"No."

"Well, maybe you can help me out now. There's a widow moved out to the next farm to mine and she peeps over the fence at me every time I peep over the fence at her. Now, if I dye my hair and whiskers I catches her. I'm 56 years old and exempt from war service. I've been drafted in 41 or 42. I'm the real blue shiny kind. Dyed up proper, with a see-gar and new gallores on, I don't know but what I'd pass for 28."

"I see," said the drug clerk, "you are afraid if you do this you might have to go to war if there should be one."

"No, you ain't got quite the right idea. You see, married men's exempt from servin' in the war too. Ef it turned out that the widow was too much for me and I felt like takin' Spain for a change they wouldn't let me join the army on account of being married."

"But you could volunteer," suggested the clerk.

"Now, you're gittin' to ther p'int. That's what I wanted to know. Ef the widow makes it too hot for me I kin just give er whoop and grab my musket and light fer Spain with the rest of the boys."

"Certainly."

"And she couldn't have me furnished or subpoenaed and brought back?"

"No."

"Then give me a bottle of ther best hair dye you got. I'm goin' to give ther widow a chance, and ef she makes things unpleasant them Spaniards'll think a cyclone's turned loose on 'em when they hear me hollerin' down ther road."

LARGE KENNEL SHOW

Deluded American Women Sent Home—Gossip of Stage and Notables.

London, Oct. 23.—(Copyright, 1897, by the Associated Press)—There was a sudden influx into town during the past week and most of the large London residences are open for the winter season, while the hotels and restaurants are crowded nightly. The princess of Wales and her daughter, the Princess Victoria, arrived from Denmark on Wednesday, and the prince of Wales returned to town from shooting in Norfolk on Thursday. They will all remain at the Marlborough house for several days. The prince of Wales is building a large riding school at Sandringham and around its extreme circumference a cycling track.

The greater New York election activities are followed here with considerable interest, especially the presentation of Richard Croker as a crony of the prince of Wales. The London Figaro on the subject says: "The independence of the New York politicians is laughable to those who know the extent of the prince of Wales' acquaintance with the money market. When Croker brought his race horses here, he was introduced to the prince of Wales in the character of a great supporter of the turf. Immediately, however, he was dropped from the royal circle. As it was Croker never progressed further in intimacy with the prince of Wales than on one occasion to offer him a light for his cigar."

The annual kennel show opened on Tuesday at the Crystal palace with 200 entries, being the record. The exhibitors include the prince and princess of Wales, the duchess of Newcastle and the marchioness of Conyngham. The principal attraction was the eighteen dogs used by Jackson, the explorer, in his expedition to the Arctic, and a Schipperke with a set of false teeth.

Another exhibition which has attracted many people is the dairy show at Islington. Among the exhibitors are the duchess of Newcastle and the marchioness of Conyngham. The principal attraction was the eighteen dogs used by Jackson, the explorer, in his expedition to the Arctic, and a Schipperke with a set of false teeth.

There has been one more case exploded of foolish persons in the United States who were misled by the false tales of wealth awaiting heirs in England. Mrs. Nolan and Mrs. Rafferty, of 34 East Seventeenth street, New York, arrived here a fortnight ago and called at the office of Charles Russell, son of the late John Russell, who they wanted to collect $400,000 ($2,000,000) belonging to the heirs of the late John Russell, adding that the heirs of the money the same way as to be able to return to New York on the steamer which brought them to England, which showed the documents, the slightest value, at the same time informing his visitors that no such sum was included in the inventory of two women having spent all the money they had on the voyage from New York to England. Mr. Russell, who is a correspondent for the Daily Telegraph in London, said that the documents were being sent to the United States and they would be home on Wednesday.

During a number of years the members of the British nobility have been selling anything from milk or potatoes. The latest addition to the list has been a leading advertisement inserted in a church paper, in which the enterprising nobleman says: "A leading advertisement, free, chickens at 2s 6d; ducks, 6d; rabbits, 2s 2d per pair; turkeys from 2s and geese from 4s 6d, turkeys for the table."

Lieut. Winston Churchill, of the Fourth Hussars, son of Lady Randolph Churchill, formerly Miss Jennie Jerrold, daughter of the late Leonard Jerome, of New York, is acting as war correspondent for the Daily Telegraph in London.

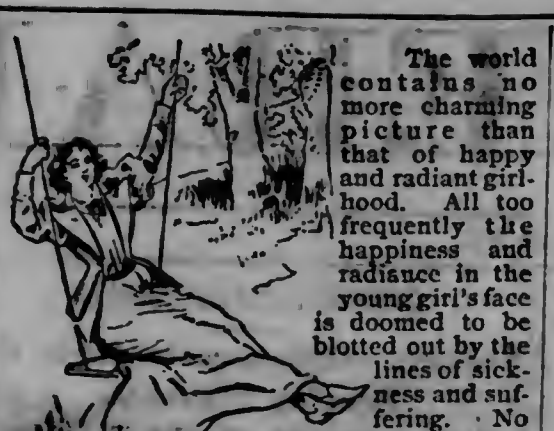

Mrs. Lily Langtry benefits to the extent of £300 ($100) yearly by the death of her husband, the late John Langtry. The Hon. Ella Searle, oldest daughter of Baroness Alington, widow of the third Baron Alington, and daughter of the late Commodore Margrave, of the States navy, is completing a course of medical studies at Duluth, Minn. The gossip of Paris is divided between the reconciliation of the Prince and Princess de Sagan and the visit of Mlle. Lucy Faure, daughter of the president to the duchess of D'Almeida, who is acting as a war correspondent for the Daily Telegraph in London.

When the actors arrived at the Avenue theatre on Monday, they found notices posted to the effect that the house was closed. Fitzroy Gardner's career as manager having been disastrous financially, an attempt was made on Saturday to strengthen the bill by substituting "The Lady Burglar" and "More Than Ever" for "My Lady's Orchard." Mrs. Oscar Boyving's play, "The Two Daughters," a musical comedy, appeared, but the novelties proved rank failures.

"The Vagabond King" by Louis N. Parker was produced at the Camberwell theatre on Wednesday and generally made a good impression. It was seen in America, where it was played by Richard Mansfield, under the title of "The King of Peru." "Sporting Life" the new 1-act sporting melodrama by Cecil Raleigh and Seymour Hicks, in seventeen scenes, including several very striking sets, proves to be a blatant melodrama with a race course scene. "The Race for the Guinea." The hero of the piece depicts the earl of Woodstock of the Second Life guards, and is played by Leonard Boyce.

"The Little Minister" will have its first presentation in England on Nov. 6. Charles A. Adams and his company are America soon to produce a musical melodrama, "Paul of the Alps," at which he and De La Motte are the authors. Samuel Potter, the composer of "Tommy Atkins," has furnished music for the piece.

GIVEN A CHANCE

English Papers Say That Is the Fate of the Bimetallist Proposals.

A SARCASTIC PRESS

Senator Wolcott's Proposals Excite a Great Deal of Satirical Comment.

London, Oct. 23.—Commenting editorially on the international monetary conditions, the Times this morning says: "When the extent and significance of the American proposals come to be generally understood, we shall be surprised if even the bimetallics venture to contend that they could have been accepted as the basis of any serious international agreement." Sir James Woodhead's dispatch is an admirably reasoned statement. Crude as are the American proposals, aside from the reopening of the gold mines, it is difficult to understand how it is to be treated with gravity by the British statesmen. It is really a word as much as a thing to use so much of the word 'gold' in connection with the American proposals. The methods of currency and banking, the counsel of the fox that lost his tail are discarded by the common sense of mankind."

The Daily Chronicle says the public will read the story of the negotiations with a little surprise. It calls Senator Wolcott's proposal "cool" and asks what the government will do in the house of commons in March last year that the government would reopen the gold mines of the United States.

The Morning Post, the Daily Telegraph, the Standard and the Daily News all comment in the same nature on Senator Wolcott's proposal. The Daily Telegraph admitted that it was "very adroit" to take advantage of the American difficulty.

The Daily News says: "Had the proposals been known, public opinion would have killed them in a single day; but a cabinet containing Mr. Balfour has but three months to give them their quietus."

The Daily Press applauds the government's decision to accept the American proposal, which is a virtual victory.

"Never Again," a comedy which had long run in New York will be at the blaming it, to give it a desired impetus. Taking names at haphazard out of the hat, he is not at all concerned to select people informing them that they will find impeachable evidence of the wrongdoings of their wives or husbands as the case may be, by calling at No. 25 North Main. This is the house of the Scraphin's house. The addressed persons call with alacrity and are met by Scraphin, who explains that his short tenure of office does not permit him to take names at haphazard, but that he goes on in it. The callers are, therefore, referred to the latter, who has a smooth and agreeable way, and sets their suspicions at rest, not, however, until the latter has been to the millinery shop and buys some of his pleasant dreams in the millinery line.

Richard Mansfield announces his purpose to shelve, as far as possible, all impersonations of disagreeable characters. "I am getting tired," he says, "of appearing as the kind of men who have only unpleasant attributes. People begin to think that I am that sort of man myself. Hereafter I am going to play lovers that all the girls will rave over. Seriously, I think public taste shows a healthy incline toward stage characters that one would not be ashamed to know in real life—men of kindly nature, brave and lovable, men who make love brilliantly, fight cheerfully and live in an atmosphere of roses and romance."

It is said that Jeff D'Angelis has succeeded in overshadowing even Della Fox and Lillian Russell in "The Wedding Day." A writer says that D'Angelis is scoring a record as the one man who can cast Della Fox and Lillian Russell in the shade.

The Washington Post critic, mindful perhaps of the embarrassment attendant upon the managerial direction of the comedy presented by three stars, adopted the plan of grouping Lillian Russell, Della Fox and Jefferson D'Angeli in reviewing the performance of "The Wedding Day." When he mentioned the height of the actresses, the Lillian Russell (Fox-D'Angeli), Della Fox (Russell-D'Angeli) and Jefferson D'Angeli (Russell-Fox). It seems a good scheme, but the manager of this triple alliance probably has other doubts, which this commensurate newspaper man does not remove by his considerate grouping of the comic opera trinity.

After a penetration in the prison office he remarks to the warden: "Say, do you know I believe you have thieves in this place."

As an evidence of the great faith in the statements that Maude Adams has scored a genuine success in Barrie's "The Little Minister," it is announced that her stay at the Empire theater in New York is to be extended two weeks beyond the time originally set and these two weeks are taken from the time of none other than John Drew, with whom she was formerly associated.

Before it can be said that the dog days have passed, it seems to want to tell a dog story on Senator Vest.

Ago Mr. Vest was down in Missouri to try a lawsuit. Another case, a dog case, was on the docket just ahead of 'him, and he had to wait till ahead of him was disposed of, says the Chicago Times-Tribune. The dog case was a suit by a dog case asked Vest if he wouldn't help their side, and the senator said yes. He got $2500 by the plaintiff and the trial went on. Voluminous evidence was introduced showing that defendant had shot plaintiff's dog, made a good deal as much to prove that the dog was innocent. Then the attorney took the defendant to the court, giving over the dresses to the court, along over the time with great thoroughness. All this time the dog was running round head buried between his shoulders, as was his work, without saying anything. It seemed to be asleep most of the time.

So Vest rose from his chair, straightened the kink out of his neck, looked first one juror and then another in the face till he had spent several minutes in making the round of the twelve godo men and true, and then began:

"Gentlemen of the Jury: The best happening yesterday, broke the record for the greatest destruction that yesterday's sun had ever wrought. The weary gangs of wreckers were relieved early this morning by fresh crews of men, who were busy on the docks upon the submerged, and the wreckage prosecuted. A few wreckers pulled the bodies of the river and placed on shore, and the bodies were being in the morning, but the sun was not in the sight. When the wreckers sufficient tackle on the sleeping bodies, they were not in the water, much excitement and speculation, and the bodies were being in the water. Some bodies in this car, the most of the bodies were in the water, and the bodies were being in the water. The water had run out of it, a searching party went through it and to the river, and the bodies were being in the water. Nearly, near, a body was discovered, and the bodies were being in the water. The car, Hermes, which is in the water, left its trucks on the track and the bodies were being in the water. Only in about three feet of water, the bodies were being in the water. Porter of Glen Alpine, Wm. Patterson, and the bodies were being in the water. He tells the most graphic story of the bodies were being in the water. He says that the bodies were being in the water, and to the nearest land explained to him how many sleeping people related the story to Col. Ashley W. Peck, the president of the state railroad commission, who was in charge of the investigation. He said: "Just before the accident I was awakened from a nap by a loud noise. I got up, thinking we were near Peck's place. I looked out of the window and saw a large fire. I jumped out of the car and ran a leap of the car towards the river. As I was thrown to the floor, but getting up, I saw the fire was spreading and running outside broke all the windows. I ran to the shore side and in a few minutes I saw the fire was spreading. I am positive everyone got out, because there was only a foot or so of water. I saw the fire was spreading. I got out on all the sleeping car passengers. We saw some people from the fire. I saw the fire was spreading. We helped them to safety. I am positive that though some people were in the fire, they were not hurt. I was drowned because of the cold or cramping them."

diver who took six bodies out of the sea last evening said he could find no trace of the bodies of the two men who were killed in the explosion, but that other dead will be found in time when it is raised. Three-Year-Old Boy Loses Himself and Distracts His Parents.

TO DRUM UP VOTERS
The Scandinavian Committee Working to Get Men to Become Naturalized.

The 3-year-old son of Bernard Doyle, living at the corner of Fifty-sixth avenue west and Redruth street, wandered away from home about 11 o'clock yesterday morning and was not found until this morning. The last that could be learned of the little fellow was when he was seen near the corner of Grand avenue and Raleigh streets, about eight blocks from his home, just before noon. Then he disappeared as completely as though he had been swallowed up by the earth. The parents hunted for him in every direction all day, aided by the police, but no trace of him was found until 10 o'clock this morning, when a man called on Lieut. Briggs and informed him that a 3-year-old boy had called at Benson's boarding house on Thirty-ninth avenue west last night and announced that he had "guessed" he would stop there awhile. The child proved to be Doyle's. He did not know where he lived and could give no information concerning himself, but he did not cry and seemed satisfied to remain at the boarding house. He was returned to his distracted parents none the worse for his experience.

TO DRUM UP VOTERS.
The West Duluth Norwegian society has appointed a committee to drum up all Scandinavian voters who have this year failed to take part in the election, and get them to go before the court this week. The committee report this week. The committee report this week. The committee report this week.

WAS NOT SO "EASY."
At the Foresters' dance in Great Northern hall Friday night there was just one episode to mar the pleasure of the occasion. A young man from Duluth, who had been present and had been a good time, was present and had been a good time, was present and had been a good time.

MADE A BAD HORSE TRADE.
Nels Nelson, the West Duluth drayman, went to the horse market yesterday and made what he considered a very advantageous horse trade. He brought his new horse home last night and went to bed well pleased with the bargain he had made. This morning he hitched the animal up and found that he had away to do several jobs of work that he had on hand, but try as he would he could not induce the brute to budge, and finally he gave it up and went in search of the man from whom he had got him. He is not doing any dray business today.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.
William Brotherton, who has been missing from his home since last Sunday, has been learned by the police to have returned to his home in Carlton county by some of his friends and is now completing his work. All anxiety concerning him has been removed and he is believed to have returned from his derelict condition.

The program for the temperance mass meeting to take place next Sunday afternoon at the Swedish church, Fifty-ninth avenue and Ramsey street, is about complete. There will be songs and music by members of the church and the meeting is to be held in the Lutheran church. It will give some selections. A declamation will be rendered by Miss Clara Johnson and addresses by the Rev. T. H. Cleland and N. B. Trevitt. The meeting will be opened by Rev. Hasselblad with a short speech.

The Sunday school rally services at Westminster church yesterday morning were largely attended and a very interesting musical and literary program was rendered consisting of songs and recitations.

Shirogrodsky has returned from Chicago.

A. J. Philtrault and a party of five other West Duluth nimble left Saturday morning on a hunting expedition in the northern end of the county. They will return about Nov. 5.

General Manager Bowers Hammering Down Prices of Ships.

Now it is the shipbuilders who are talking of John D. Rockefeller and the probable effect on their industry produced by his operations on the lakes. During the past three or four weeks the General Manager of the Bessmer Steamship company has been in correspondence with the shipbuilders with the managers of shipyards. Nearly all of them have submitted plans and prices to him, and most of them have been turned down. They are agreed to build ships for him at a price of $200,000 per ship, and yet they are in a hurry to get out of the business. GATES AS HIS TUTOR

Young John D. Rockefeller Is Being Initiated Into the Lake Business.

POLICY OF GATES
Not to Seek Profit From Mining But From Ore Transportation.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., 22 years of age, has just visited, in company with F. T. Gates, the iron mining districts at the head of Lake Superior, where his father is heavily interested in profitable mines, in a valuable railway, in one of the largest and in large tracts of undeveloped mining property, says the Review. He is to be initiated into the lake business, probably not the details, but the more important responsibilities. He is regarded by everyone who knows him as a promising young man. He is energetic, but unassuming. His initial business training from all that can be learned, will be with Mr. Gates, and will have to do with the extensive iron mining business of his father, which interests him in the transportation of ore on the lakes. This is the conclusion from the fact that he is now being taken over to ground to judge of and become acquainted with these interests for himself.

Some of them, it is needless to say, will strike him as regular Klondikes from a dividend-paying standpoint, whatever his ideas may be of profits in the business world. But after all, there are more of them who will play him, pity him for the reason that if he is to undertake real business, even to the extent of his father's present interests on the lakes, the responsibilities before him are great. He is already the subject of gossip. A popular argument is that not one in a thousand among the sons of wealthy men prove equal to the opportunities offered them. It is not clear, also, that when John D. Rockefeller's father's business a professional disintegration will occur in the big corporations which he has built up.

Mr. Rockefeller remains that the young man will have good fortune, not least among whom is F. T. Gates. He is showing him around the mines of Lake Superior. In this connection it may be of interest to note a peculiarity in the man who has been so much talked about of late on the lakes, and who is said to draw a salary of $20,000 a year. He is a leading shipper of Cleveland, who is probably as well informed as anyone in the iron industry since the first announcement was made of a connection between the Rockefeller and the Carnegie interests in the mining and transportation of ore. It is, of course, well understood, he said, that the Rockefeller interests were so much reaching in their effects that everybody began to talk of Gates, and when he appeared later at a meeting of the trustees in Cleveland he was the center of attraction.

This was the first meeting which it was thought would be the funeral of the pool, but at which the Rockefeller interest took a stand in favor of a pool that was entirely contrary to what was expected. Every body expected to hear from Mr. Gates at the outset, but several others had their say before he spoke. It was remarked that when he began to talk he turned his back to everybody in the room, and with his eyes fixed on a spot in the ceiling he continued for probably five minutes, never turning to see whether anybody was listening or not. Of course they were all listening to him without a sound of interruption. When it was necessary to speak again, his eyes were turned to another corner of the room, and everybody wondered why he did it. Probably it was only a habit and one that would not be remarked in a man occupying a less prominent position.

Previous to this meeting, F. T. Gates was not very well known on the lakes. His dealings were with only a few representatives in the iron industry, and they were conducted very quietly, both here and in Minnesota. But of late his operations in the interest of Mr. Rockefeller have of necessity been more public. It would seem that this policy, as indicated by contracts made with the Carnegie-Clough combination, is not to seek profit from the ownership of ore under ground in the Lake Superior region, but rather to develop the property and hold the valuable right of transportation in everything that touches the interest which he represents. It should be plain, then, to the intelligent vessel owner that low cost of transportation affording profit only in a great volume of business, is the problem that now faces him. A similar condition is presented in the iron and steel industry. Mr. Rockefeller's representatives are planning the building of ships and the operation of them on a scale equal to that of the iron industry, and in fact equal to all that the iron industry will support. If the business is to be enlarged by exports of iron and steel later on, they will be in position to reap great advantages from the foreign trade. They know, for instance, how many vessels there are on the lakes that can move ore from the head of Lake Superior to Ohio ports at 60 cents a ton and meet all expenses. The number is small, but it includes their fleet. They are building vessels of this class and many of them. No great forethought is required to judge of the results.

WINGS SHOULD BE CLIPPED.
A story is told of a Glasgow hawke whose knowledge of natural history was limited. One day, when on the bench, the following case came before him:

A man who had a squirrel, on going to the country for a short time, left the squirrel in charge of a neighbor. The neighbor, when attending to the animal, accidentally left the door of its cage open, and without being seen, it made its escape.

On his return the owner of the squirrel was very angry at the man for his carelessness, and brought an action against him, demanding compensation for the loss of his pet.

The judge heard both parties and then gave the following as his decision: "The squirrel was in the cage door, but it was not the man's fault. It was the squirrel's fault. It was a quadruped, yet you honor!" said the man.

"Quadruped here or quadruped there, if you had clipped its wings it couldn't have flown away." I dismiss the case.

CLOSING OF SAULT CANAL.

It May Be Earlier Than Usual This Year.

General Superintendent E. S. Wheeler has made application to the secretary of war for permission to close St. Mary's falls canal a little earlier than usual this year in order to expedite the work of construction of the new gates that are to be built this winter adjacent to the movable dam. If permission is granted the canal will be closed about Nov. 15, or as soon as the number of boats to pass through is decreased sufficiently to be accommodated by the Canadian canal for the balance of the season. Mr. Wheeler says that the object of closing the canal earlier than usual is not so much because of the shortness of time for the completion of the new gates, but because certain portions of the work can best be done before ice forms. With a week's uninterrupted work before the formation of ice, he says, as much could be accomplished as in four or five weeks after cold weather has set in.

The early closing of the canal will work no hardship upon vesselmen, as the Canadian canal will be at their service. Only once before has the canal been closed as early as Nov. 15, and that was in the fall of 1894, just prior to the opening of the Weitzel locks. When it was necessary to build a cofferdam across the canal to complete the work. The mariners kicked, but the last boat came down on the 14th. That night a cold wave arrived, and the next few days the mercury was down at zero. There was barely time in which to complete the cofferdam before winter was at hand. Detroit and Chicago boats, which brought supplies to the Sault, hurriedly discharged their cargoes on the docks. The goods were not even checked off, as the boats were in such haste to get out of the river before thick ice formed, but the crafts were unable to proceed further than the cofferdam, and were compelled to return to the Sault and go into winter quarters. This happened prior to the first of the month, and the ice did not break up until spring.

FUR-LINED AND FUR-TRIMMED
COATS AND—

Fur Robes

For today and all week.

FOR SOME TIME past we have been quietly negotiating with one of the largest fur manufacturers in this country to close out about 300 of his finest Fur Coats and Robes at a price. He sternly refused until last Friday. But finally, becoming nervous and afraid to carry so many—owing to the exceptionally mild season—he wired us acceptance of our offer. These Coats and Robes are now on sale.

This is undoubtedly the largest Fur deal ever made at one time by any single store in Minnesota.

These Coats consist of Fur and Fur-lined garments—Mink, Beaver, Persian Lamb, Otter, Bulgarian Lamb, Coons, Russian Buffalo, Dog and Goat.

The Robes consist of Gray Goat, Black Dyed Goat, Eskimo Dog, Hudson Bay Wolf, Wombats, Australian Opossum, Fine Raccoon, White Goat, Lamb and Angoras, all lined with fine Mackinaw linings, felt linings, plain and fancy plush linings. Robes come in all sizes—48x60, 54x66 and 60x68 inches.

We will sell these Coats and Robes at prices that will positively admit of no competition. We invite every man and woman in Duluth to come and see them.

Now is the time to buy Fur Coats and Robes.

WELL FILLED DOCKET.

Large Number of Petty Offenders in Court Today.

There was quite a list of petty misdemeanors in police court this morning. Over-indulgence in the flowing bowl was the cause of the troubles of nearly all of them.

William Higgins paid an assessment of $10 and costs for drunkenness. John Wilson went up the hill to serve out a fine. Charles McCullin, who said he was from Boston, was fined $10 and costs on a drunk charge. Charles pleads guilty that he was in "unharnessed circumstances" and said that if sentence was suspended he would dig out an office for Beantown. Charles was allowed to go after his picture had been taken at the instance of Detective Dawson who, for reasons of his own, wanted to add Charles' "photo" to his collection.

HAS TAKEN POSSESSION.

Board is in Charge of the Prescott Machinery.

The board of public works took possession of the pumping engine Saturday afternoon. It has been decided that this action will not prejudice the city in the matter of the claim made by Mr. McCreagor, of the Duluth Boiler works, against the Prescott company for damages on account of the fact that the latter was not ready to receive the boiler at the time specified. A settlement of this matter was not expected Saturday as expected.

After taking possession of the engine, demand for the boiler was made by the board for the city in its own right, as well as agent for the Prescott company. It was thought that a settlement would be reached this afternoon.

We are all subject to pain occasionally and it is well to have a good liniment in the house, such as Salvation Oil, 25 cents.

Large Meeting to Be Held Next Sunday Afternoon.

A meeting in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Methodist church. The purpose of the meeting will be to disseminate information as to the work, its scope and the conditions here, and to arouse interest in the organization. Addresses will be delivered by President Northrup of the state university; W. J. O'Leary, vice president of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway; William Francis, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Congressman Morris, ex-Governor John Miller, Dr. Forbes and Watson S. Moore. There will be musical selections by Miss Spencer and F. E. Woodward, soloists, and a male chorus.

BIG PETITION PRESENTED.

Mayor Is Asked to Reinstate the Police Matron.

A petition requesting the reinstatement of Mrs. Van Sickle as police matron was presented to the mayor this morning by a committee consisting of Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, Mrs. D. C. Prescott and Mrs. Marshall. There are about 400 names on the petition, some of the signers stating, however, that they are not in favor of any particular candidate.

The mayor told the committee that he could not see any reason for altering his determination in the premises, but promised, however, to give the matter further consideration.

Jobbers' Union Meeting.

The jobbers' union will meet tonight and discuss with the members some of the proposed and pending matters in national legislation. The extension of the mining laws to Minnesota will be taken up. The bankruptcy bill will be considered, and also the proposition to create a department of commerce. Another matter is the proposal to take the tariff out of politics and place it in the hands of a commission.

Sunday School Rally.

The first annual Sunday school rally of the First Methodist church took place yesterday morning at the 10:30 o'clock service, and was very interesting to all. There was a large attendance. Each scholar was decorated with a neat star and stripes shield, bearing a text on the back. The feature of the service was the reading of letters from former pastors of the church. There was a fine musical program. Five hundred invitations were sent out.

BOND DECLARED FORFEITED.

Joseph Hardy, Alias Conrad Krebs, Fails to Appear.

During the last term of court the grand jury found an indictment against Joseph Hardy, alias Conrad Krebs, for forgery. He was arraigned and was allowed to go on bail. Since then he has not made his appearance in district court. His bond was called this morning. As nothing has been heard from him his bail was declared forfeited and the state for his absence. He gave three separate bonds of $100 each. On one of them James Hart, Walter S. Lloyd and John Coventry appeared as sureties, on another Hart, Lloyd and Thomas Trevillian are sureties, and on the third Hart, Lloyd and James N. Prior are sureties. These men will be called upon to pay the amounts for which they stood good. Judge Ensign declared the bonds forfeited.

Sues for the Balance.

James R. McKay this morning brought a suit against Chauncey D. Gibbs to recover $22.50 alleged to be for pine land minutes. The complaint states that in 1893 Gibbs entered into a contract with McKay, Sharp & Co. who were in partnership, by which they were to furnish him with minutes on some good pine land, for which he was to pay them 25 cents per thousand for the standing pine that was found on the land. It is claimed that though the land contained 2,500,000 feet of standing timber Gibbs never paid more than $65, the amount that was to be paid on the signing of the contract, and that the above amount was due. The account was assigned to the plaintiff. Alfred & Hunt are the attorneys.

Real Estate Picking Up.

Duluth real estate dealers are beginning to feel the effects of the general revival in business. Some sales are being made and inquiries for property are steadily increasing in number. He has already received a number of letters of inquiry that were prompted by the industrial edition of The Herald which was printed Saturday, Oct. 16.

Church Census May Be Taken.

It is reported that the churches of Duluth propose to take a "church census" of Duluth. The object is to find out what percentage of Duluth people go to church. Just how many times a year a person must go to church to come within the class of church-going people will probably be explained.

Even Messengers Are Barred.

The North American and Postal Telegraph company have sent the following order to all of their offices: "Notice having been served by the Alabama state quarantine officers that messenger boys will not be allowed to enter the infected portions of Montgomery, Ala., all business for parties located outside of the business portion of that city will be accepted and endorsed, subject to heavy and, perhaps, indefinite delay, until further notice. Deliveries will be made with as much despatch as practicable through physicians, physicians and immunes. The mail deliveries are said to be very irregular and unsatisfactory."

BRIGHT OUTLOOK

G. G. Hartley Returns From the East With Renewed Confidence in Duluth.

SIGNS OF REVIVAL

He Looks For the Establishment of Many New Manufactories.

When G. G. Hartley returns from an Eastern trip he usually brings back some information that is of special interest to the people of Duluth. He has just arrived home from a three weeks' absence during which time he has not failed to observe things and he is, if anything, more confident than ever that a turn has been made in the affairs of the whole country in general and of Duluth in particular, and that this city is now entering upon a period of unexampled prosperity. Money in the East, he said, was now easier to obtain for investment in legitimate Western enterprises than now and those who have schemes that will bear investigation will find no trouble in finding ample capital with which to promote them. Mr. Hartley believes that a revival in all kinds of manufacturing industries in the West is about to be inaugurated and he looks for a healthy demand for good water powers.

While in New York, said he, "I met W. P. Douglas, who is interested in the water power at Sault Ste. Marie. He had just returned from a three month trip through England and Germany, where he had been mingling with the manufacturers who have during the past few years been shipping heavily of their products to the United States. He told Mr. Douglas that this was the most reliable and profitable market and that if they were to retain their place in this country they must erect manufacturing plants here as they could no longer bring their goods in because of the tariff. A dozen of these men will come over the water in a short time and follow Mr. Douglas to the Sault. He has already closed a deal with a large chemical works to be established at his water power. Eastern manufacturers, too, are seeking locations in the West to be nearer their market."

"In my opinion the outlook for Duluth never was as bright as it is now, and I notice that the people here are beginning to change in feeling to the feeling of the people here has been remarkable during the short time that I have been away. TO RAR PLANS

Council Appoints a Committee to Arrange for Completing Prescott Engines.

Mr. Prescott Tells Why He Failed--Plans for Parallel System Ordered.

The council last evening appointed a committee of five to draft, in conjunction with the city attorney, a plan for the completion by the city of the waterworks pumping engines. It is provided that the plan shall be drawn with the view of preserving the city company's indemnity bond. The plan is to be submitted Wednesday night to an adjourned meeting of the council. The committee consists of Aldermen Jefferson, Crasswell, Rowley, Sang and Harker.

This action was taken after a long discussion in committee of the whole, in the course of which Mr. Prescott explained the situation his company is in. He said that it would cost from $15,000 to $20,000 to complete the engines, including the sum of money for labor and other claims already existing, amounting to over $6000.

The matter was introduced by a resolution from the waterworks committee that the city should complete the engines. The resolution was read, and the committee was ordered to proceed with the plan.

Alderman Jefferson wanted to know if the waterworks committee had any idea as to what sum would be required to finish the work. Alderman Rowley said the committee could not say, and referred Alderman Jefferson to the board of public works.

President Smith of the board said that the board had estimated that from $800 to $1000 would be required. The plan outlined by the board, he said, was to put the work in charge of a mechanical engineer to be selected by the board and to proceed with it according to the plans and specifications.

It was moved by Alderman Crasswell that it be expressed as the sense of the committee that the work be finished by day labor, according to the plans and specifications, under the direction of the board, the city to disburse the funds required.

WANTED TO REPAIR IT. Alderman Jefferson offered an amendment referring the whole matter back to the board of public works for an estimate of the cost of completion and a detailed plan to do full particulars generally.

Alderman Crasswell thought that the work should be entrusted to a competent engineer. He said he had been offered an estimate of $15,000 for the work, and he said he had been offered an estimate of $15,000 for the work.

The city, he said, had been offered an estimate of $15,000 for the work, and he said he had been offered an estimate of $15,000 for the work. The city, he said, had been offered an estimate of $15,000 for the work.

Mr. Prescott was then called on to state what his company had to say about the history of the matter. He said that the company had been offered an estimate of $15,000 for the work, and he said he had been offered an estimate of $15,000 for the work.

plan should be formulated for the board's guidance.

Alderman Sang picked up and wanted to know what bills the member from the First alluded to in his remarks about unauthorized payments, but the member from the Fifth was headed off by a point of order.

At this juncture, Alderman Rowley, of the waterworks committee, said he should support Alderman Cochrane's measure, which had the effect of sending these in favor of the resolution reported by his committee. The committee of the waterworks committee, Alderman Cochrane's resolution and it was adopted.

THE PARALLEL WATER SYSTEM. A resolution introduced by Alderman Crasswell was passed, directing the board of public works to have prepared plans and specifications for an estimate of the cost of a low service system paralleling the existing one, and to report the same not later than Nov. 28.

The charter commission was empowered to employ a stenographer at the city's expense, the salary not to exceed $1000 per annum, in view of the fact that the committee expected to receive from the substitution of a new charter in place of the present "hodge-podge" as he called it.

Alderman Crasswell stated that the committee in estimating the sum named would be sufficient.

An opinion from the city attorney was read holding that the bill of Bagley and Tibbets for beds and mattresses was such a one as the fire commissioners are empowered to contract without submitting the question to the council for approval.

AT WEST DULUTH

Dr. Hutton Leases the Bennett Hotel for a Private Hospital.

WILL BE READY SOON

Friends of Fred Hazeltine Expect an Acquittal--Murray Bros. Estate.

Dr. A. F. Hutton has leased the Bennett hotel and will transform it into a private hospital. The house is now being thoroughly repaired and renovated, and will be ready for the reception of patients next week. The Bennett, which is the best hotel building in West Duluth, has been lying idle ever since early last spring. A hospital is something that has been badly needed in West Duluth for the accommodation of men who are injured in the mills and lumber camps, and the Bennett is admirably adapted for the new use to which it is to be put.

EXPECT AN ACQUITTAL. All of the evidence in the trial of Fred Hazeltine on a charge of burglary was closed yesterday at Carlton, and the case given to the jury this morning. A verdict will be reached today.

TEARING DOWN THE SHED. The old shed like building standing on the bay front, near the Marineette from being a monument to the dead hopes of H. W. Wheeler, who expected to build a lot of ships of a new type, known as turbine boats, is being torn down today. The shed was built by the late Mr. Wheeler, who expected to build a lot of ships of a new type, known as turbine boats, is being torn down today.

WILL GET VERY LITTLE. Geo. J. Mallory, assistant for Murray Bros., is rapidly winding up the affairs of the insolvent concern. The stock has been sold, and the proceeds are being distributed to the creditors.

BETTER HEARD FROM. A telegram was received from Harvey Potter, dated at Seattle, Wash., in which he stated that he would be in Duluth on Friday, from which point he will start for the Dixon trail. He expects to reach his destination within two months, with over three hundred dollars.

DELUGED WITH PETITIONS.
Four More Thrown Upon His Honor Today.

Four more petitions asking the resignation of Mrs. Van Sickle as police mistress were received by the mayor this morning, making six since yesterday morning. Many of the signatures on all the petitions, however, disclaim advocacy of any particular candidate. Many of them, also, are in favor of paying the salary. The majority of these latter recommend $300 per annum as the amount to be paid, a reduction of 50 per cent.

Must Clear the Walks.
The mayor is after the dealers who block the sidewalks with piles of goods. He says that a reasonable space on the side next the buildings will be all that is needed for displays, but that the practice of piling wares on the outside of the walks must be stopped. He gave the police department instructions to that effect this morning.

COUNTY MATTERS

Civic Federation Is Again at Work Looking Into Them.

IS KEEPING QUIET

Not Saying Much as to Its Discoveries—The County Funds.

The civic federation is again turning its attention to county matters. It has been directed in any other direction. Yesterday afternoon a committee from the federation, consisting of O. H. Simonds, L. J. Hopkins and H. L. Mahon were up at the court house looking things over, and from the direction their inquiries took it was evident that something or other is under discussion by the federation or is about to come up.

The committee appeared to be investigating the offices for the purpose of determining whether or not the measures of economy introduced some time ago are being carried out. One of the things the committee sought was whether or not the number of clerks were dropped that the county board resolved to do. It is interesting in the early summer when measures to reduce expenses were passed. It was found, so far as could be learned, that all of these promises were carried out. The committee also looked into the expenditures during the past few months from the county poor and county road funds, both of which are overdrawn. When the committee found in this line is not known, as the committee and the members of the federation refused to talk about the matters the organization has in hand, whatever they are.

It is reported, however, that the federation, or some of its members, are talking of having injunction proceedings begun to cause the county auditors to cease expending money from these overdrawn funds. None of the members of the federation who were seen would talk about this, but it was so reported, and the nature of the investigation of the county auditor is in the face of this report. County Auditor Halden was asked this morning for a statement in the face of this report, while he knew nothing about the report and was inclined to doubt that anyone entertained such ideas, he said: "It has been quite a while since the funds were in better shape than they are at present. A few months ago they were overdrawn in the two funds amounting to about $60,000, and today that has been paid. There is no reason why it should, with the labor market better than it has been for years. The different funds at present stand as follows:

"Revenue, $124,292.37; poor, overdraft of $16,722.15; special road, overdraft of $14,077.64; school fund, $32,902.70; bond interest, $13,546.30; bond sinking, $31,288.32; road and bridge bond interest, and sinking, $24,533.46; railroad aid bond interest and sinking, $18,455.38; refund account, overdraft of $44,130; infectious diseases, $24,675; total credits, $248,496.50; total overdrafts, $34,203.89; net credit, $214,292.68. The following items may be added: Tax collection unapportioned, $75,147.35; amount in hands of treasurer due villages, towns and school districts, $296.30; village of Duluth bond interest and sinking, $36,223.74; West Duluth special fund, $75.35; private redemption fund, $259.03; new road fund, $19,151; state funds, $764.78; total cash on hand, $349,712.07.

"In this is included the money in default funds, but uncollected taxes for 1895 and 1896, to say nothing of former years, will take care of this and give a credit of about the above amount."

A STUBBORN JURY.

Indian Whisky Case Bother Twelve Men Greatly.

The jury in the case of the United States vs. Charles Elliott in the United States court went out yesterday afternoon and was out all night. This is quite remarkable as being the only Indian whisky case this term in which a verdict was not reached within an hour. This morning Judge Lochren called the jury in and tried to learn whether some point in the evidence was bothering them. One of the jury hinted out that they didn't believe "Fairbanks." This displeased Judge Lochren, and he explained that he did not wish to know the opinions of any jurymen, but merely to know whether they were in doubt as to the evidence. Judge Lochren said he did not understand why a verdict could not be reached, and sent the jury back. This afternoon the jury returned a verdict of guilty on the third count and not guilty on the first two in the indictment. Elliott was sentenced to sixty days in the Crow Wing county jail and $100 fine.

The case against Martin Lundberg was continued, and the indictment against Charles Fairbanks was dismissed.

The case of George McKenney vs. Duluth & Iron Range railroad was placed on trial in the United States circuit court last evening. The plaintiff is suing for $10,000 damages. The defendant practically admits the damages, but claims that only nominal damages should be allowed, alleging that any permanent disability McKenney may be suffering from is due to physical troubles and disease.

A motion was made on the part of the company to dismiss the case, and the court ordered it. It was done this noon.

In the case of the Duluth Light and Water company vs. the Independent School District of Duluth, the defendant has filed a demurrer, and it will be argued tonight.

Thomas Cullyford Sued.

William E. Lucas, receiver of the Marine National bank, has been sued against Thomas Cullyford to collect $120. He alleges that the defendant owned forty shares of stock in the value of $100 each of Marine bank stock at the time it failed. Comptroller Sackels levied an assessment of $28 on the stock. The receiver alleges that Mr. Cullyford has not paid this, and asks to collect the same. The suit was begun in the United States circuit court and F. W. Sullivan is attorney.

CONFLICT OF AUTHORITY.

More Trouble With Fire Board Is In Store.

Suit was entered in the municipal court by Little & Nolte against the city yesterday afternoon, to recover the sum of $77 alleged to be for premiums on insurance on headquarters fire hall and No. 2 hall. The suit appears to be a result of a conflict of authority between the fire commissioners and the public buildings committee of the council. The commissioners, it is said, ordered the insurance of Little & Nolte. After the policies were written, Alderman Berg, of the public buildings committee, placed the insurance with another firm, he had charge of insuring the fire halls. The bills for the premiums on the policies ordered by Alderman Berg was allowed by the controller and paid, and now, it is claimed, it looks as if there is a fair prospect for the policies ordered by the commissioners may be enforced.

HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION.

Regular Meeting to Be Held Next Tuesday Evening.

The next regular monthly meeting of the Duluth Scientific and Historical association will be held next Tuesday evening at the high school library, and at that time Rev. C. H. Patton will give his paper "On Horseback Through the Rockies." The details of the association will probably be discussed and the action may be taken upon them. The idea of holding such an entertainment as that suggested by Professor Woolman has created considerable interest, and there is little doubt that it will be a success. Other matters of interest to the members of the association will be taken up and dealt with, and the sections devoted to various branches of science and history will be continued for a long winter's work.

READY TO GO UP.

Appeal in Lakeside Tax Case Has Been Prepared.

The Lakeside Land company case, in which the question of tax discrimination in favor of the iron mines is involved, has been ready to go to the supreme court, and as soon as Judge Moor returns to put his signature to the findings as settled in the case, he heard at once by the supreme court and a decision rendered at no distant date. This case also involves the question of whether the board of education has any right to make a levy or not. The land company claims that the levy must be made by the county board, and the board of education can only suggest the amount of money it will need. Several hundred other cases are involved in the determination of this one.

STOCKHOLDERS ANSWER.

Number of Them Reply in Statutory Liability Suit.

In the case of Clinton Markell, as assignee for H. H. Bell against the Masonic Temple association, to enforce the payment of $16,000 to O. S. Markell, an answer was filed this morning by a number of the stockholders, who have been named as defendants in the most of the allegations of the complaint. They admit that the association gave a mortgage to H. H. Bell, and that the plaintiff got a judgment upon it. They deny, however, that the association, and admit that there was a mortgage upon the building.

F. B. Dargatzis, who has the number of shares credited to him in the complaint, or more than four; F. D. Dargatzis, who has more than two; E. S. Upham has only three; George N. La Vigne only four; C. J. Turteltaub only twenty; and James Dingwall four.

It is claimed that he has had no stock since 1891, when he sold all he had to the North Star Lodge of Perfection, which now holds it. He owns none now, and he is under no liability unless it is secondary to the North Star lodge. J. H. La Vigne says that in 1891 he had twenty shares, but that in that year he sold eighteen of them to C. S. Doolittle, and that he is not liable under those shares, unless it is secondary to Doolittle.

Answering generally the defendants claim that there are many stockholders of the company that have not been brought in at all, that there are many non-resident stockholders who have not been made parties, and whose property has not been attached, and that many resident and non-resident stockholders who have been named as defendants, but who have not been served with summons and who have not been brought into the case. It is claimed that some of these non-resident stockholders have valuable property which may be attached. It is claimed that the answering defendants will be greatly prejudiced if the action is continued in its present shape, and they ask that it be stayed, and that the plaintiff be enjoined from proceeding until all the stockholders are brought in. Alford & Hunt are the attorneys.

Must Pay the Duty.

The treasury department has sustained Collector Willcuts decision that the X-Botti company must pay the duty of 4 cents a pound on fish brought in from Canada. The company claimed that it really caught the fish, the fishermen being its employees, and that therefore the fish should be exempt. The department finds that the fish were caught under Canadian licenses and that only Canadians can get the licenses.

Pope Leo XIII has just conferred on Father Graux of the cathedral of Duluth the title of apostolic missionary to the holy see. The reverend gentleman is a Frenchman by birth, and has successfully labored for souls on the American shores some fifteen years.

He is an accomplished linguist and a learned churchman. He is a member of Bishop McCollier's council. Previous to his coming to this country Father Graux built a beautiful church in Rome, being the procurator of an important society of priests. There he became personally acquainted with Pope Leo XIII. Father Graux created also a magnificent church in Detroit, Mich., a standing monument to his zeal. In the diocese of Duluth he did noble work at Cloquet and in the parish of St. John, this city, where he renovated the present church building. His many friends in this city rejoice at his elevation.
